Around
And About Town

With
C. F.
(SKIRVIN)

Robert Gould is familiar with my antipathy to rod and line, and what is supposed to fall for the temptation which is attached to the hook. This is a left-handed way of talking about fishing, but that's it. "Bob" is an angler and a diplomat. He goes fishing and then sends me some evidence via the sports editor, Paul Wright, who says he has some fish for me which would have been O. K. if he hadn't smiled. My undercover report of the expedition is that Gould had good luck with E. G. Donnelly's assistance.

Not legally qualified but personally considered I continue to receive and appreciate regular notification of meetings of the Orange County Bar association, through the office of George Parker, the suave and debonaire secretary of that Blackstonian congregation. I presume the invitation is extended on the theory that it won't hurt me to hear something about legal procedure, as I may need it sometime.

Losing the companionship and business contact of Frank Hanky, who goes to Long Beach for commercial identification. Just getting so I liked him well enough to ask for a loan, and then he moves out on me. Business is that way. You get located, build up a friendly clientele, and then executives decide it is advisable that a few shifts be made in the personnel. Which is none of my business, but it makes it necessary to lay the foundation for other friendships.

Whenever I see Harry Brackett in that "Spirit of Youth" Breakfast costume, it reminds me of the depression. There isn't much left.

Some of the comic strips have been running so long the artists and narrators should be taken to the woodshed. Fems who were debutantes when first introduced are now old enough to be grandmothers, but the role hasn't changed. They are still flappers. Why not marry off a few of the glamorous girls and introduce new characters?

The way to answer a telephone when you are in a bathtub is by silence. It's effective, and much safer.

Business is so bad that they have built another race track at Inglewood. And Santa Anita only runs around 20 million dollars some seasons, more other seasons.

And discussing soup, radio and otherwise. I have an invitation to have soup with a hotel manager who knows his three beans. He says to come over and take soup with him. I'll be over, but it won't be to have soup. I know the feminine department of administration.

My oranges escaped the labor. Now if they can escape the labor troubles the railroad might get a chance to ship 'em to Eastern markets and thereby give railroads some freight and railroad men some work and business men some business and I don't know how many others will be benefited, which is good. Then a normal operation is healthy for all of us.

Mussolini says he will have in a short time the strongest air force in the world, ready to contest atmospheric domination with all comers. Instead of peace on earth, good will to men, this is a prospect of destruction.

Highways, washed out, will have to be washed in again, bigger and safer than ever, inasmuch as something should be gained by experience, and made up by the taxpayer.

That was a nice concession a thief made in returning a wedding ring. Once upon a time I had an experience with a thief and when he came to the Mrs.'s wedding ring she timidly asked if he would leave it. His reply was somewhat humorous and quite satisfactory: "Yes," said he, "I was married once myself."

And there seems to be something to that old remark about things going bad for a few years, and then getting worse. That's the time when you need an anchor to windward. After all, while I (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Acquittal Inspires West

SUPERVISOR SMILING IN VICTORY

To Try for Congress, Says Report

Acquitted by a superior court jury of grand jury charges of attempted bribery during one congressional campaign, N. E. West, Fifth district supervisor, was reported ready today to enter the lists for the 1938 Democratic nomination for congress.

A jury of eight women and four men deliberated for an hour and a half last night before finding West not guilty of two charges of misconduct in office brought last January by the 1937 grand jury.

The peppery little Laguna Beach supervisor was jubilant as Foreman William A. Dolan of Buena Park announced at 6:35 p. m. yesterday that the jury had reached a verdict, and Court Clerk Clyde Bruce read the form handed him by Dolan. Presiding Superior Judge James L. Allen received the verdict in the absence of Superior Judge L. N. Turrentine of San Diego, who with Defense Co-Counsel Edgar Hervey left for home when the jury retired.

The jury was understood unofficially to have taken five ballots before reaching its decision, with the count standing 11-1 until the final ballot, which made the verdict unanimous.

West grinned, shaking hands with several friends who remained in the courtroom for the verdict. "I knew it would come out that way," he smiled.

"I have every confidence in that jury," said District Attorney W. F. Menton, who as legal advisor to the grand jury had the task of presenting the grand jury's case. "If that is their decision, it is right."

P. O. RECEIPTS TAKE JUMP

Postal receipts for the first quarter this year leaped ahead of the income for the same period in 1937 by $5,932.61 or an increase of more than 14 per cent, according to Postmaster Frank H. Harwood. They were nearly $10,000 better than the all-time January through March total in 1931.

Increases this year over last year by months are as follows: January, $3197; February, $999, and March, $1735. The 1938 quarter total is $48,147.44 as compared to the 1937 figure of $42,214. Receipts for the first quarter in previous years are as follows: 1933, $31,891; 1934, $34,396; 1935, $36,809, and 1936, $38,860.

Convict Returned To Face Trial Here

Charged with holding up a San Pedro sailor and robbing him of $7 early in January, John S. Pasquay, 37, was brought here from Folsom penitentiary last night to face trial in Orange county.

Pasquay was identified at a "show-up" in Los Angeles as the man who allegedly had held up W. C. Fuchs, U. S. S. Nevada, while the pair was returning from San Diego toward San Pedro. The holdup reportedly occurred on the coast highway north of Capistrano Beach.

The suspect was brought back from Folsom by Deputy Sheriffs James Musick and John Gilmore.

WPA GRANTS 3 PROJECTS

The WPA today granted three flood rehabilitation projects at Anaheim, Huntington Beach and Placentia with a total value of $64,696. Work was put underway this morning on the $257,190 reconstruction and repair of unit two of the joint outfall sewer.

At Anaheim, 188 men will be employed four months on cleaning up. The total cost of the project will run $59,848 of which the federal government is to furnish $50,439.

A similar program at Huntington Beach is to cost $2666 and the government will furnish $2396 of this. Thirty-eight men will be engaged one month. At Placentia 26 men will work one month in cleaning up that community's flood debris. The government is furnishing $1782 of the $2182 to be expended. Work on all three projects is to start next Monday.

Mexico Promotes Oil Market Abroad

MEXICO CITY. (AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas was understood today to have found prospective purchasers abroad for Mexico's rising stocks of oil taken from the $400,000,000 properties of expropriated American and British companies.

Bernard E. Smith, New York stock broker, and Francis W. Rickett, British promoter, it was understood, had reached an agreement "in principle" with President Roosevelt to purchase government oil at an extremely low figure for resale in the world market. Neither would comment on their activities here.

Santa Ana Artist Honored at Exhibit

Robert B. Gilbert, young Santa Ana artist, has just received another honor. His oil painting, "Planting Orange Groves," has been hung in the 15th annual exhibition of the San Francisco Art association.

The canvas was one of 200 chosen for display from among 1400 submitted to the jury. It was recently shown at Los Angeles.

SCONCE GETS DEPUTY'S JOB

After declining reinstatement in his old job, Ben Sconce—former WPA timekeeper and bone of contention in the army's recent WPA investigation here—went to work as a deputy on the staff of Republican Sheriff Logan Jackson today.

Sconce was appointed bailiff in department three of the superior court to succeed Fred Humiston, who resigned last night after 12 years of service under Jackson and his predecessor, Sam Jerri-gan.

Humiston told The Journal today he had planned to retire shortly after the first of the year. Sconce's appointment to the $115-a-month bailiff's job was effective today.

The outgoing bailiff opened Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court today.

Jail Guest Finds Bastile Beds Not Too Comfortable

Alonzo Whyte, 19-year-old Newport fisherman, thinks the county jail beds are "not too good." Fortunately for him, he won't have to sleep in them any more.

Whyte was released by Presiding Superior Judge James L. Allen today on two years' probation on a grand theft charge. Tom Coultrup, 19, who pleaded guilty with Whyte, was given a similar probation term. The youths admitted stealing a bait net, but said they were induced to do it by Tommy Rice, who still is at large.

Auto Looter Gets Plumber's Tools

Theft of $100 worth of plumbing tools from a car parked at the rear of the Finley hotel, 410 East Fourth street, was reported today by Jack Nicholson, plumber living at the hotel.

The tools were stolen from an unlocked trunk on the car sometime between midnight and 7 a. m., Nicholson told police.

SPAIN REBELS LOSE GROUND

MADRID. (AP)—Government staff headquarters asserted today that a government offensive north of Guadalajara had gained seven miles and was continuing successfully.

The drive, in the long quiet sector some 40 miles northeast of Madrid, was launched with the object of lessening the vigor of the insurgents' thus far successful offensive through Aragon and Catalonia toward the Mediterranean.

Gen. Jose Mijang, commanding government forces in central Spain, said fighting above Guadalajara was intense but his men were forging ahead.

Government reports said the insurgents, in a determined effort to halt the drive, had thrown into the battle 40 big bombing planes which bombed government lines incessantly but with little damage.

'POWDER RIVER' MEN TO MEET

The "Powder River" men will take Santa Ana by storm tomorrow night.

Record-breaking numbers of registrations already have been turned in for the 91st division association's pow-wow in the Legion hall here.

A special Pacific Electric train will arrive early in the evening with the Los Angeles contingent, and other veterans of the famous division will swarm to Santa Ana from other parts of Southern California.

Combining "Outpost Night" with "Overseas Night," the 91st division has invited all other World War divisions to join in the get-together.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—United States Senator William Gibbs McAdoo will campaign for reelection as senator from California with the approval of Postmaster General James A. Farley, it was announced today by Mrs. Lucretia Del Valle Grady, vice-chairman of the national democratic committee.

PHONE RATES CUT 25 CENTS

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Federal Communications Commission today said that the Bell Telephone company could reduce its rates 25 per cent by eliminating "unnecessarily high costs."

These costs, Walker said in a proposed report on the telephone investigation directed by the commission, result from manufacturing, engineering, depreciation, bookkeeping and other policies for which the American Telephone and Telegraph company is responsible.

Walker recommended that the federal communications commission be given jurisdiction to "review, approve or disapprove all Bell System policies and practices promulgated by the Central Management group of the American company."

RIVERS RISING IN MIDWEST

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas rivers continued to rise today in the wake of rains that accompanied a series of tornadoes earlier in the week, but weather bureau forecasts indicated the excess waters could be carried off without creating a major flood.

The week's tornado fatalities rose to 13 with the death in a Batesville hospital of 11-year-old Freeman Rice of Banner, Ark. Tornado-rehabilitation went forward in nine North Arkansas counties, mostly mountainous sections which suffered an estimated $600,000 property loss.

OAKLAND. (AP)—Jokesters who called the Oakland dog pound and asked for "Mr. Barker" got the surprise of their lives today.

Poundmaster R. C. Trotter went to great pains to prepare for the scores of telephone calls received each April 1.

He trained a dozen dogs to bark loudly whenever he snapped his fingers.

Oil Tank Hurled Through Air As Onlookers Flee

Sheathed in a roaring blast of flame from an exploding gasoline truck and trailer, 22 men suffered serious burns late last night on Airplane hill north of Huntington Beach. Six Midway City firemen were burned while attempting to combat flames in a Morgan Brothers Truck company truck.

The others burned were attracted to the scene by flames hurtling skyward from the gasoline-laden vehicle. As the trailer exploded, spectators and firemen were caught by flames as they attempted to flee. Many were burned on the legs, neck and back.

The truck, driven by Lester Lipscomb, 40, of 2484 Taft street, Huntington Park, was creeping slowly up steep Airplane hill when gasoline sloshed from the trailer. It caught fire almost immediately, the driver said.

As spectators gathered and fire companies were called, the truck and trailer blazed higher and higher, the trailer finally exploding with a roar heard for many miles. The tank attached to the trailer landed in a field one-eighth of a mile on one side of the road, while the bed of the trailer was thrown an equal distance to the other side of the highway.

Most seriously injured were three Midway City firemen, who (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

FARM LABOR TO JOIN CIO

Council Votes to Affiliate With Lewis

The Orange County Agricultural and Allied Workers Joint Council voted last night to affiliate with John Lewis' CIO union during a stormy session at which AFL members present threatened to bolt from the American Federation of Labor. Minimum wage scales were also set for citrus pickers, packing house employees and beet harvesters for the ensuing season.

The American Federation of Labor agricultural union was not officially represented owing to orders from A. H. Peterson, western division chief of the AFL, who several weeks ago urged all members of his group to remain out of the council.

Federation men present, however, informed the others that, "if the AFL continues to ignore their problems they will take steps to affiliate, whether the Green representatives consent or not."

The orange pickers' wage scale, authorized by the council, calls for 40 cents an hour minimum, with 40 boxes as a basis for eight hours' work. Pickers should receive seven cents per box, the union demands continue, for more than 40 containers harvested in one day.

The council request also asks a minimum of 45 cents an hour and an eight hour day for citrus packing house employees. Beet workers will demand a wage of 55 cents an hour minimum for loading and topping beets, and abolition of the "contractor system."

The council will set up a translation and educational committee to supervise classes and to translate labor news into the Spanish tongue.

Petitioner

William Green (above), president of the AFL today went to the White House to see President Roosevelt as asking President Roosevelt to come out flatly with a statement on the diplomatic policy of nonrecognition with regard to forced annexation of Austria by Germany.

'Suicide' Written In Plavan's Death

Investigation of the "apparently suicidal" death yesterday afternoon of Leland Plavan, 37, Greenville, was being completed today by Coroner Earl Abbey, who indicated there would be no inquest. Plavan died at 2 p. m., just 24 hours after being fatally wounded from several 30-30 rifle shots fired in his home near Greenville. After being rushed to St. Joseph hospital, he told officers the wounds were self-inflicted. His body was taken to Brown and Wagner mortuary.

FLOOD VICTIM BODY FOUND

Discovery of the body of Alfonso Agundez, 70-year-old La Jolla camp resident, in an orange grove a mile east of Placentia, today boosted Orange county's list of flood deaths to 20.

Agundez, seen carried away in the swirling waters March 3, had been the subject of an extensive search for the past four weeks. His body was found partially buried just off Orangehour avenue.

The list of persons still missing since the flood now includes Simeon Bathgate, San Juan Capistrano rancher; Charles Hughes, 80, Santa Ana, and Delfina Ynguez, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilario Ynguez, of the Anaheim sugar factory camp.

SERUM VICTIM'S RELATIVES HERE

Santa Ana relatives of E. F. Bolte, Orlando, Fla., today anxiously awaited word from Florida physicians after learning he was stricken by a cancer treatment serum that already has claimed nine lives.

Bolte is a brother of T. H. Bolte, who is wintering in Santa Ana, and uncle of E. C. Bolte, employe in the county superintendent of schools' office. Last word was that Bolte is gravely ill after receiving serum from the same bottle as that used for the nine other patients who have died since Wednesday.

Late Beach Visitor Killed in Car Crash

do not subscribe to that old theory life is what we make it, I do think we have a lot to do about it. If all of us "give up" every time the bright side turned cloudy, well, it wouldn't be so encouraging for those who are willing to fight it out. Smile, and the world may not smile with you, but a part of it will, and that helps.

Judge Spence and Constable Skillman, of Fullerton, sent me a message by "Brick" Gaines which, if as delivered, calls for a duel, and I'm goin' have "Brick" take my place.

Then a little conference with Ray Couch and he didn't lay down on me. His name is sort of restful and inviting. You get a relaxation just thinking about it. There is something in a name, and much more to an individual. After a long and serious and argumentative conversation we both decided that we didn't know who won the World war.

Those tornadoes, natives of the midwest and south and northwest, are arriving, inflicting their penalty on life and property. Californians by adoption, who are familiar with the affected sections, can easily visualize the threat contained in those formal shaped clouds which descend with such fury on city and prairie, leaving tragic toll. Somehow or other, having experienced both cataclysm of nature, I'll take my chances with an earthquake, and I'm not fond of either.

Alaskan Queen Also Wants to See Myrna Loy

"Men movie stars? Not me!" The queen of the rugged northland assured reporters. "They're too sissified. Why, I understand they manure their fingernails."

WEST PLEASED WITH VERDICT

tators who had heard the four days of testimony and argument, much of it conflicting. The jury did not go to dinner—one of the few cases on record here where a verdict has been returned before, instead of after, the evening meal, paid for by the county.

A handful of spectators remained for the verdict, although most had left, believing the verdict would not be returned until 8 p. m. at the earliest. West's attorneys, E. Z. McKinney of Santa Ana and Edgar Hervey of San Diego, had succeeded in having stricken two of the original four counts brought by the grand jury—accusing West of hampering law and order during the 1936 citrus strike and of making false and malicious statements against other officials in the courthouse salary-ordinance battle.

Last night's verdict freed him from the grand jury's charges that he solicited bribes of $200 from E. K. Wood of Riverside and $1000 from A. H. Fanning of Laguna during liquidation of the assessment-burdened Broadway district in 1936. The defense contended West's demand of Wood was for a real estate commission he earned a year later, and that his conversation with Fanning, if any, was private transaction and had nothing to do with his official acts.

Arguments began at 10:10 a. m. yesterday, with Asst. Dist. Atty. Preston Turner opening for the state. McKinney followed Turner, and Hervey argued following him. Dist. Atty. Menton closed the people's argument.

Hervey's attack on Wood highlighted the entire trial. His allotted hour for argument was spent in pouring a torrent of rapid-fire words on the chief prosecution witness.

"A man comes here from Riverside," he shouted, "... to make himself some money. And Mr. West—you ought to thank God you've got one little firebrand to nose into these things—got too nosy."

And when one supervisor noses into his deal—they go and get poor old Mr. Fanning, and Mr. Wood, who doesn't like Mr. West. And somebody, somewhere, would like to make you ladies and gentlemen a tool by which the steam-roller shall not be interrupted."

He closed with a 30-line quotation from Shakespeare's "Othello"—the "who steals my purse steals trash" speech of the Moor who finds he has slain his wife unjustly.

Midway through his argument, Hervey was asked by a woman juror to "please not talk so loud." Menton's closing argument included a plea for sane consideration of the case, and a verdict based on whether West's acts were in his official capacity or not.

Referring to Fanning's testimony that "Mr. West said he was in a position to save us $5000, and he wanted $1000 for doing it," Menton asked the jury: "Suppose a criminal action was pending against you—and you

Belgian Coal Strike Avoided

BRUSSELS, (AP)—A general strike of coal workers was avoided today when employers agreed to a managerial investigation, as to whether the financial status of collieries justified a proposed 5 per cent cut ordered for April 3.

When I was the district attorney—and I came to you and said I could do something for you, perhaps that I could get the charge dismissed. Would you think it was the district attorney talking, or would you just say to yourself 'Here's Bill Menton, talking through his hat?'"

Menton replied to defense arguments that Wood should have reported the bribe earlier, remarking: "Why, for the first time, if Mr. West knew then that the property owners were being cheated, do we now hear from him about it? He owed a duty to the taxpayers of the county..."

Other department members injured were Ray Suss, burns on the hands and Bert Heath, hand and arm burns. Dr. Johnson also received hand burns.

Treated for serious first and second-degree burns by Huntington Beach physicians were Kim Talbert, Virgil Brewster, John Maxwell, Dr. Ralph Hawes, Jack Curtis, W. J. Schoesele, two unidentified Japanese boys, Elbert Nicholson, three school boys on his back, Art Wilson, Standard Oil company production superintendent, minor burns, Art Lang, W. J. The driver of the truck ran down the road as the truck caught fire, and escaped injury, he told witnesses.

Film Colony Gets Help to Starving Animals at Zoo

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Film celebrities passed the hat today to save hundreds of animal actors from starvation at flood-damaged Zoo park.

As a relief fund grew, Anna May, the elephant, feasted again on fresh hay, and Jackie, the Nubian lion, roared welcome to cuts of raw meat.

Nissa and Sweetheart, leopard stars of "Bringing Up Baby," and Lady, a dancing crane who has appeared with Shirley Temple, also got back to a normal diet. It takes $50 a day to buy food for the zoo's wild folk, gathered from five continents, but since the storm and flood early in March, money has been lacking.

Attendance dropped at Zoo park and motion pictures, in which the animals could be used, were delayed.

The crisis was reached yesterday when Dr. C. C. Warn of the city humane department, informed the animals were suffering from a month's half-rations, said they would be put to death unless relief was forthcoming.

Officials of Zoo park announced a benefit show would be held April 24 for the animals.

BRITISH LEADERS CONFIDENT AS TREASURY SURPLUS TOLD

European Situation 'Steady' as England Views $145,000,000 Cash in Vaults

LONDON, (AP)—British ministers surveyed the tangled European situation today with a serene eye and confident voice. An official budget surplus furnished ammunition for the opposition at home, but heartened the government. The treasury announced (in round figures) an income of £872,000,000, ($5,360,000,000), which was nearly $50,000,000 over estimates, and expenditures of $4,115,000,000, some $95,000,000 under estimates.

That made a "surplus" approaching $145,000,000.

But the opposition press promptly pointed out the government spent nearly $325,000,000 of borrowed money on rearmament. There was a "deficit" of $180,000,000, critics said.

That did not disturb Prime Minister Chamberlain, however, or his chief aide, Foreign Minister Viscount Halifax.

Halifax told the Foreign Press association the foreign political barometer was fair, and had remained fairly steady "for the past week."

Nor did the liberal party's request that the government give the League of Nations a chance at European appeasement ruffle the conservatives, who Monday will face a far stronger labor party demand for a general election.

HAVE A CAMEL, BETTY?

THANKS, RAY. SAY—YOU NEVER SMOKE ANYTHING BUT CAMELS. ARE THEY SO DIFFERENT FROM OTHER CIGARETTES?

NO TWO WAYS ABOUT IT, BETTY. I'M REHEARSING OR ON THE AIR FOR 40 HOURS A WEEK. IT'S TOUGH ON MY NERVES, DIGESTION, AND ESPECIALLY MY THROAT. MY CIGARETTE MUST AGREE WITH ME. AND CAMELS DO—in EVERY WAY

WHEN RAY WINTERS signed off (above) he had a long, hard day behind him. Ray has thought a lot about which cigarette best fits in with the ex-acting, nerve-and-energy-consuming work he does. "Camels are distinctly different from other cigarettes," is his verdict. "Camels agree with me. In all the ten years I've been enjoying them, I've never known Camels to make my throat feel scratchy. Or my nerves ragged. That speaks pretty well for Camels' mildness, doesn't it?"

And many millions of other smokers find what they want in Camels, too.

MORE and more experienced smokers are concluding: "Camel is the cigarette that agrees with me." If you are not now smoking Camels, try them. Look for the difference between Camels and other cigarettes. Find out what it means to enjoy Camel's costlier tobaccos.

BOWLING is one of Ray Winters' pastimes. He's pretty good at it, too. "Put me down as a chap who certainly appreciates Camels when I'm tired," Ray says. "I get a 'lift' with a Camel."

Camels are a matchless blend of finer—MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic.

"The majority of tobacco growers favor Camels because we know what choice tobacco goes into them,"

TOBACCO PLANTERS REPORT

"The favorite with most men who grow tobacco," is what Vault Snowden, veteran planter, calls Camels. "Camel doesn't buy just any tobacco—they get the best. The Camel buyer bought all the choice grade tobacco of my last crop. I've been a steady Camel smoker myself for 19 years."

B. F. Bivins, another experienced tobacco grower, knows what cigarette pays more for the choice leaf tobacco. "The Camel people sure do get the best grades," he says. "Take my own crop last year. Camel bought the best lots. And other planters will tell you the same. You bet, I smoke Camels."

He's been growing tobacco for 10 years. "I'm in a position to know a lot about the quality of the tobacco that goes into various cigarettes," James Graves, another well-known planter, says. "Most of the growers around here—myself included—sold the best leaf tobacco of their last crop to Camels. I know tobacco so I smoke Camels."

HOOVER SPEECH STIRS LEAGUE TO NEW HOPES

BERLIN. (AP)—There will be no reaction to former President Hoover's speech last night on international affairs as far as official Germany is concerned, a propaganda ministry spokesman declared today.

"The speech, as far as we know, was absolutely neutral and there is no reason to make any comment," he said.

WARNS AGAINST LETTING FASCISM TAKE ROOT

NEW YORK. (AP)—The United States, says Herbert Hoover, should avoid alliance with other democratic nations against Fascist powers, and at the same time be wary lest Fascism take root in this country through "planned economy."

"I found most nations in Europe convinced that we would be inevitably drawn into the next great war as in the last," said the former president, just back from Europe, in an address last night before the council on foreign relations.

"Some people build confidence upon it. But every phase of this picture should harden our resolves that we keep out of other people's wars. Nations in Europe need to be convinced that this is our policy."

Our national mission, he asserted, is to "keep alight the lamp of true liberalism."

"But," he added, "it is in the United States that we must keep it alight."

LEAGUE OF NATIONS TAKES PLEASURE IN "SPEECH"

GENEVA. (AP)—League of Nations circles greeted with pleasure today former President Hoover's proposed solution of Europe's post-war reconstruction debts to the United States.

A source close to the League said the plan was an "interesting suggestion which might have practical results" in promoting world understanding and peace.

FRENCH FOREIGN OFFICE STUDIES HOOVER'S SPEECH

PARIS. (AP)—Officials of the French foreign office today studied carefully Herbert Hoover's New York speech of last night, but declined official comment on what they said were "the opinions of a private citizen."

Courthouse Stands Shakes and Shocks

The N. E. West trial may have rocked the courthouse figuratively—but actually it didn't shake it a bit.

And F. D. Rossier, who carried most of the mortar to stick the big red building together, was on hand to see that it didn't.

Sales Tax Due And Payable Today

She is survived by her husband, Wilson Ralph Seacord, of San Diego; a son, Terry Wilson, of San Diego; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Waldron of El Monte; and a brother, Billy Waldron of El Monte. ## NEW ALL TIME P. O. RECORD

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A new all-time record of $3,901,885.70 was set in Los Angeles postoffice receipts for the first three months of 1938, Mrs. Mary D. Briggs, acting postmaster, reported today.

Imports, exports and port collections, however, showed a marked decrease, due to strike conditions at the harbor, it was reported by William Jennings Bryan, Jr., collector of customs.

Postal receipts for the first quarter of 1937 were $2,970,016.69. March receipts were $1,102,481, compared with $1,146,024 for the same month a year ago.

Bryan reported that March exports amounted to $11,612,683, compared with $15,229,705 a year ago. Port collections were $803,328 as against $1,534,255 for March of last year.

Mystery Dramas Keep Kids Awake

Mystery dramas over the radio may disturb the sleep of children under 12 years old, but romantic programs keep them awake when they are older, Dr. Weston E. Clark, of the University of Maryland, says. He reported results of a survey of over 500 school children in Washington, D. C.

Pact Rumor Brings Paris Stock Boom

PARIS. (AP)—Rumors in financial quarters that an Anglo-Italian agreement had been signed touched off a boom in international issues on the Bourse today.

Despite statements from official sources in London that nothing was known there of the rumored international stocks moved forward on an opening buying spree and held the gains in a busy market.

French government and industrial issues also tended higher.

COLONIES LOSS SAYS EXPERT

NEW YORK. — Colonies don't pay, declares Dr. C. B. Fawcett, professor of economic and regional geography in the University of London, in a communication to the American Geographical society here. Professor Fawcett's views are published in the Geographical Review, which will be off the presses today.

Colonies are valued principally for their prestige value, in upholding the national self-esteem of the power that owns them, the English geographer indicates. Such imperialistic "front" is of course an expensive luxury.

Even Great Britain, with the world's most far-flung colonial supply empire, has to import wheat for the homeland's daily bread. British colonies supply British needs in only three food-stuffs, tea, cocoa and cane sugar—semi-luxuries, all of them. A few great British fortunes have been made in the colonies, a fairish number of young men find satisfactory careers as colonial administrators—but more money has been sunk in unrecorded losses than has been won in conspicuous gains, and the British home taxpayer has to foot the bills for administration costs.

BIG TELESCOPE ORDER PLACED

PASADENA. (AP)—Orders are being placed for a 48-inch Schmidt telescope to be used as a "scout" for the 200-inch mirror at Palomar observatory, Capt. Clyde S. McDowell, supervising engineer, said today.

"It will be a part of the Palomar observatory project, along with the 18-inch Schmidt telescope already in use," said Capt. McDowell.

Dr. Fritz Zwicky, astrophysicist, who discovered two super novae or exploding stars with the 18-inch telescope, explained that the new one, although smaller than the 200-inch reflector, is so constructed that it will photograph a much larger field of sky.

"From the photographs we will determine what we want to study with the powerful 200-inch mirror," said Dr. Zwicky. "The 48-inch also will be used in other investigations, of course, but this will be one of its chief services."

Rancher Paroled On Auto Charge

H. P. Berger, 40-year-old Anaheim rancher, was free today on a year's probation after pleading guilty to a charge of driving an auto while his license was revoked.

Judge James L. Allen granted probation today. Berger, who just completed a two-month sentence for drunk driving, was arrested Feb. 6 on Haster road.

$8000 Building Permits Issued

Two permits valued at $8000 were issued today by the city building inspector to start construction work off with a bang for April.

W. W. Garvin received one of the permits for erection of a residence at 1323 South Garnsey with an estimated cost of $4000. Another one for a similar sum was granted to Jasper Farney for a house at 207 Owens drive.

A gold nugget was found in the crop of a turkey grown by Robert Farley, Colusa county.

Borah, for the first time in many years, stood at differences recently on the floor of the senate when they "split" on the size of Roosevelt's naval program. ## HIGH-FLYING PLANE CRASHES

BRUSSELS. (AP)—A 10-ton sub-sonic plane crashed near the Evere airfield today on its maiden flight, killing the pilot in its hermetically sealed cabin.

The tri-motored plane, built by the Belgian inventor Renard, had a wingspread of 77 feet and was designed to carry a crew of three and 20 passengers at a height of 20,000 feet.

Renard, spurred by the stratosphere balloon ascents of Prof. Auguste Piccard, sought to design a plane for sub-sonic altitudes. This plane had a cruising speed of 220 miles an hour.

Prosecution Rests In Farm-Boy Death

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Ralph De Bore Pekor was to testify in his own defense today in his trial for the slaying of William Williamson, Missouri farm boy.

HUSBAND, WIFE DIE IN QUARREL PLANE BLAMED IN AIR CRASH

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP)—A barber and his wife were killed, and a young woman possibly fatally shot in what Richmond police described today as a murder and suicide.
Police Sgt. Chester Lilly said Charles Hinz, 39, shot and killed his 33-year-old wife, Florence, fired a bullet into the back of his 21-year-old niece and then fatally wounded himself at the climax of a family quarrel late last night.
The niece, Miss Victoria Kozel of Klamath Falls, Ore., was so seriously injured that a priest was called early this morning to administer the last sacrament.

Citrus Peel Caviar To Livestock

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Citrus peel, which the Texas planning board reports was a troublesome problem for Rio Grande valley citrus juice canneries, has been converted into livestock food and is a regularly quoted commodity on the feed markets.
The peel, the board says, is fed into dehydrating machines, where all moisture is removed. It is then cut into small pieces and sacked.
Having the appearance of prepared breakfast food, the meal has a bitter taste, but one palatable to livestock.

Convict Working On Gas Sewer

MARQUETTE, Mich.—Hugh C. Brunette, serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary here, may yet greatly benefit society. Brunette is working on an invention with which he hopes auto drivers will get 200 miles to the gallon. Several research engineers have become interested in the project, according to Warden Marvin Coon.
The warden has ordered a special generator to enable Brunette to carry on with his experiments.

BASEBALL TRAINING CAMP FOR SANTA ANA?

We were watching the Pittsburgh Pirates cavort with the Portland Beavers at Amerigo park in Fullerton. One of the Santa Ana fans—and there were many among that over-flow crowd who paid

75 cents to see the exhibition—asked me, "Why doesn't Santa

Ana revamp that Municipal bowl, and invite some major league baseball club to train there?"

"It's a good idea," sez I, "but the idea—good as it is—probably will not materialize for years to come."

Reasons: (1) cost of excavating the west side of the Sixth and

Flower street stadium, extending it 40 to 60 feet to make it sufficiently wide for baseball, would amount to hundreds of dollars; (2) the Municipal bowl, as it now stands, is ideal for football because the fans are right on the field, whereas they would be shoved far back like in the Coliseum or Rose bowl if changes were made; (3) it takes a real bank-roll to bring a major league club like Pittsburgh to a city the size of Santa Ana and (4) I doubt if Santa Ana could support the team except on Saturdays because one can't see baseball and work at the same time. Saturday afternoons would be the only opportunity to lure a crowd. There would be an awful howl if Sunday baseball were sought because

Santa Ana, in addition to being a working-man's paradise, also is a church town.

A few arguments on the other side, however, are: (1) a training camp here would send news dispatches—via Associated and United Press wire—to all parts of the United States, thereby pleasing the chamber of commerce and bringing favorable publicity to the city; (2) hotels, clothing stores, theaters, cafes and other business establishments undoubtedly would profit; and (3) there would be lots of good, clean entertainment right in our own backyard.

Paul Wright

Merle Hapes, Garden Grove's piano-legged athletic star, may be sold to Santa Ana's Stars in nightball what his brothers, Ray and Clarence, were to Bill Cook's Dons in football.

Manager Ray (Doc) Smith is

"sold" on young Hapes, plans to give him a thorough trial at second base. Tommy Lacy, with Or-ange's Cubs and Holly Sugar company last summer, will be groomed for the shortstop post, vacated by Charles Comstock, who will pastime for Anaheim.

"Doc" has reduced his rookie

roster to seven—Hapes and

Lacy; Roy Stout, p; Bud Baker, outfielder; Chet Coates (brother of Jim), 3b-p; Bill Rumbaugh, outfielder; and Everett Winkler,

pitcher and basketball star of Tustin High school.

From all present indications, the Stars will field an infield like this on opening night May 11: Bomo

Koral, c; Bob Mott, 1b; Hapes, 2b;

Lacy, ss; and Tommy Young, 3b.

Beating the laundryman to the will pass the million-dollar mark in ring earnings tonight? Well, he will if his guaranteed 40 per

in the standard performance, as

Santa Ana Jaycee's track and field brigade rolled to a 72-59 dual meet the narrow margin of 67-64 to

Erwin Youel, the football star,

the pole vault with Nolan Beat,

also of the Dons. Les Huhn hurled the distance 114 feet, 10

"Iron Man" of the day was

Carl Elias Mercurio, who breezed to a 25.4 seconds victory in the low hurdles, tied with Elson Gaeb and Les Huhn of the Dons for first place in the high jump, and garnered thirds in the 100-yard

'Knockout Inside

Five Rounds' -- Joe

(The Louis-Thomas fight will be broadcast over KECA at 7 p. m.)

CHICAGO. (AP)—On this April Fool's night, Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion, goes into the ring determined to make a fist-fool of Harry Thomas, rugged challenger from Eagle Bend, Minn.

They meet in a battle scheduled for 15 rounds in the Chicago stadium, with prospects of an attendance of from 10 to 15 thousand, and receipts from $50,000 to $70,000.

The 23-year-old negro titleholder is out to make Thomas hit the canvas and stay there before eight rounds are finished. He wants a quicker knockout than Max

Schnelzing, who stopped Thomas in eight rounds on a technical finish.

LOUIS IN FINE TRIM

Louis is tuned to physical perfection for the third defense of the title he won from James J.

Braddock in Chicago last June.

He will shoot for an early finish with a complete knockout as his objective.

Says the champion:

"If I see an opening in the first round, I'll crash through with it.

Thomas has courage and can punch and you have to dispose of a fellow like that as quick as you can. I'll take no chances. I never have been in better shape for any fight. I figure I'll have him dressed up before the fifth round."

Thomas has all the physical qualifications of Louis, but that is about all. His only advantage seems to be in a damaging attack to the body early in the last two bouts, his foes hold minor

fight before the champion gets

league rankings.

Observers figured Thomas, who started his athletic career as a catcher with the Los Angeles baseball club of the Pacific Coast league, will resume his catching job tonight, with Louis catching about 60 bunts in six years.

Thomas has 45 knockouts looks impressive, but with the exception of his attack to the body early in the last two bouts, his foes hold minor

fight before the champion gets

league rankings.

Brick Dust

How about some pungent pier paragraphs?

A pier of piers seem to be causing no end of fuss hereabouts. One at Laguna and the other at Seal Beach.

At Seal Beach they've about decided to build the pier of all piers, while at the Artist Colony that orphan wharf is still causing all sorts of commotion.

The Seal Beach court fight whether the municipal fishing place should be torn down seems to be ended. Now all that remains for construction of a honey of a wharf is approval of a municipal bond issue come next April 12, at the same time they elect councilmen in things.

If the bond issue goes over, Seal Beach will start competing with Huntington as having the finest pier in this part of the country. Plans call for a beautiful structure with seats and boat landing facilities and everything needed for such a municipal improvement.

And well-informed residents say the bond issue—a mere $100,000 or so—will go over with a bang. Swell idea, huh?

In the meantime, that aforementioned orphan wharf at Laguna is causing more trouble.

They've been trying to get rid of the pesky pier for three or four years now. And every time someone tries to tear out the aged structure, it seems to hump up its back and get stronger than ever.

At one time the city was receiving offers of pay from professional pier-pullers for salvage in the ancient bulk. Now the city's offering to pay people to take the eyesore away. And there aren't any takers.

They've even tried dynamite on the husky pilings. And the broken-backed former fishing spot still stands.

There's really a need for a good, substantial pier there, too. New one, I mean.

Also, perhaps, a breakwater.

As it is now, folks who live in Laguna and have boats at Newport-Balboa have a swell time riding the swells into the surf to land, if they want to drop off for a few minutes at home.

With a new pier, not only would the transient yachtsman business pick up, but they'd probably have a live-habit here or two operating there. I'll bet.

Better stop this. If I become any more enthusiastic I'll be down there trying to wreck the old wharf myself!

Garden committee reports: Guavas corn above ground, thank goodness. Also beans, carrots, radishes, beets and turnips, although don't know why the latter. No squash yet.

Have you seen the new Costa Mesa American Legion hall?

Lots of times civic or other organizations erect buildings which aren't much credit to a community, but the Mesa Legionnaires have constructed one of the best-looking buildings in town. They should be congratulated.

From Newport-Balboa comes word that the Tournament of Lights will be held Aug. 20, which isn't so far off.

They're going to have a youthful theme again this year. Lots of colleges and schools represented. Which will be swell.

But I still think that fish Anaheim entered two years ago is the most outstanding exhibit entered by any community or organization in the past several years. Let's have some fish, too!

And now, with my usual ability of getting out of work by clipping something from some other paper, I'll introduce Editor Verner Beck, that poetic man from Laguna, who formerly was known for his sermons to children.

This week Editor Beck offers his Ode to a Lady's Toes. This might be worth clipping out, husbands, and offered to the wife the next time she criticizes that new necktie! Here's Verner's ode:

She trips along in beauty,
Splendid, haughty, proud;
Like an angel, haloed queen;
In ermine gown or shroud.

Beautiful this creature is,
From crested diadem to shoe,
Gracing God's drab universe,
Vision rare, for man to view.

But lo, how beauty shrinks away
When on the beach she goes
And saunters barefoot on the sand
In scanty bathing clothes.

Ne'er has woman yet been seen,
And this the critic knows,
Part of woman's overlooked,
And that forsooth, are toes.

Pink, the book of fiction says,
Are toes of woman fair,
But more like peanuts in the shell
Are toes when in the bare.

Full of humps and bumps they are,
And crooked as an eel,
And not so charming, either,
Is the woman bather's heel.

Oh, ladies, hear us ask you
When you doff your Sunday clothes,
Don your nifty bathing suits,
But brighten up your toes.

EXPECT VISITORS
TUSTIN.—Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Spigh of El Paso, Tex., are expected soon to visit Mrs. Spigh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Roehm of Newport road.

MIDWAY POST OF LEGION TO GET CHARTER

High Official to Greet Members

MIDWAY CITY.—Special charter presentation ceremonies will feature the first official meeting of a new American Legion post for Orange county, slated here April 11. The local post, numbered 555, is the first to be established in the county since 1932 when the Costa Mesa group organized.

Members said today the new Legion group will act with other civic organizations for community betterment and child welfare. Territory included for membership is Westminster, Barber City, Oceanview, Wintersburg and Boulevard Gardens.

Fred (Hap) Dukes, 21st district commander, will officiate at charter presentation ceremonies and Department Commander Joe Long is expected to install permanent officers. Others to take part in the affair are Dinty Dinsmore, first vice-commander of the 21st district; Don McIntosh of Colton, fifth area commander; Ralph Nicodemus of Brea, second vice-commander of the 21st district; Russell Norton of Balboa, Orange county council commander, and Hans Paul Schmidt and Lucky Baldwin from the 40 and 8.

In charge of formation of the new post here were Emmett Holly, Henry Hall and Gene Mixer. Men who signed the temporary charter at the first meeting, Feb. 28, were Henry Cook, William Enoch, Fred Foley, Ray Hesler, Harry W. Letson, H. Marshall, Fred McCleary, Sidney Miller, Neils Nelson, H. W. Potts, Thomas E. Pryor, Lester Rooney, Felix Seelig and Robert Keller.

MORRISON IS SCOUT SPEAKER

ORANGE.—Judge Kenneth Morrison of Santa Ana was the speaker at a meeting of the Boy Scout troop sponsored by the Elks club of Orange Thursday night.

His topic, "Boys' Life," included a description of the inside of San Quentin prison, and how wrong habits can land a boy in that undesirable place. Many start the wrong habits very early, he said, and these must be changed or the boy will become a criminal.

The Rev. Arthur T. Hobson was introduced, and invited the Scouts to hold their court of honor, scheduled for next Thursday, in his church, the First Methodist. Melvin Hudson was program chairman, and C. A. Kirk and Howard Moore are Scoutmasters.

Athletic Carnival Of Harbor High In Final Preparation

COSTA MESA.—Final preparations are being made for Harbor High school's annual athletic carnival, for eight years the mecca of Southern California sports fans.

The carnival, which will be produced this evening at the Harbor high gym under the auspices of the H-Y club and the boys' physical education department, will have as its featured event, a gymnastic exhibition by the Los Angeles German Turnverein, under the direction of Carl Mettler. This exhibition, which was secured for the carnival through the co-operation of Rudolph Fehler, secretary of the Los Angeles Turnverein Germania, and Heinz Kaiser, member of the troupe, will feature H. Rothner, Los Angeles city and California State gymnastic champion; Glen Berry, former Olympic team member and George Roth, junior Los Angeles city and state champion.

A demonstration of free exercises will be followed by workouts on the parallel bars, flying rings, long horse and horizontal bars. The University of Southern California tumbling team, starring Miles Calvert, U. S. C. champ, will give an exhibition. The U. S. C. fencing team will demonstrate fancy sparring with both sabres and foils.

Other acts included in the carnival will be the championship finals for the Community volleyball league teams under the captaincy of Heinz Kaiser and Jim Conrad. Also, the commercial basketball league finals, when the Costa Mesa Foodbasket will play Myre's Service for the 1938 title. Myre's Service holds the 1937 title, and the Foodbasket that for 1936.

A girls' drill team exhibition, with 50 high school students participating, will be presented under the direction of Miss Adams, girls' gym instructor.

Other Harbor high championship finals will include ping-pong, food shooting, Alaskan barrel tipping, log riding, northwoods log boxing and rope climbing. Mass tumbling by 25 members of the boys' gym class will also be a feature of the attraction, as will be boxing bouts for the school championship in all weight divisions.

The "Musical Hobos" will furnish the music.

Orange Girl's Marriage Revealed

ORANGE.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoag have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Carolyn Hoag, to Frank Rothenberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. La Verne Rothenberger of Osborne, Kan., last Friday at Yuma, Ariz.

The couple were attended by Miss Mary Hill of Orange and Mr. Hill Rothenberger, brother of the bridegroom.

Westminster Church Group Has Annual Dinner Meeting

WESTMINSTER.—Members of the Happy Workers society of the Presbyterian church were hostesses Tuesday evening, entertaining at their annual birthday dinner.

The affair was held in the social hall of the church with 175 guests seated about 12 candle-lighted tables, arranged according to the months of the year. Mrs. George N. Greer, chairman in charge of the event, was assisted by 12 table hostesses, Mrs. O. J. Day, Mrs. George Prindle, Mrs. Clyde Day, Mrs. Chester Homestead, Mrs. Lorraine Edwards, Mrs. Ruth Penhall, Mrs. J. A. Murdy, Mrs. Harry Penhall, Mrs. C. B. McCall, Mrs. Linda McDaniel, Mrs. A. B. Crane and Mrs. Nellie Parr.

Preceding the dinner grace was offered by the Rev. Murray J. Pallette. In an after-dinner toast, Mrs. Mary Grandy, a charter member of the society, reviewed the history of the organization, formed 28 years ago. The monthly dinners, outstanding activity of the group which through the years has contributed materially to the support of the church, were begun at that time.

Mrs. Mary Reed, now living in Long Beach, was the first president and the 10 charter members were Mrs. Clara Thompson, Elizabeth Boyce, Mrs. Donaldson, Mrs. Castleman, Mrs. E. A. Dickey, Mrs. J. T. Cochran, Mrs. Mary Reed and Mrs. Mary Grandy. Following the dinner a concert by the Community orchestra directed by Paul Beatty, was featured and the Young Matrons' sextet, composed of Mrs. Margaret Prindle, Mrs. Lorraine Edwards, Mrs. Merle Rhea, Mrs. Joyce Hemstreet, Mrs. May Finley and Mrs. Orla Behrmer, accompanied by Mrs. Lucile Wise, offered numbers.

CLUB TO ELECT ITS OFFICERS

COSTA MESA.—Election of officers will be the main business at this week's meeting of the Friday Afternoon club. The school musicale, originally scheduled for the program, will be omitted, and a speaker, whose name has not yet been revealed, he engaged instead.

On Tuesday, the arts and crafts section continued work on its usual handicraft projects. Members and guests present were Mesdames J. O. Tallman, C. G. Huston, S. A. Meyer, W. G. Walker, L. B. ## LAGUNA'S DIP GETS ANOTHER

LAGUNA BEACH.—Laguna's notorious dip almost claimed another victim last night when Dean McGoffin of Indio, Calif., was apprehended speeding 50 miles an hour in the 20-mile zone.

The dip, which is located on the Coast boulevard at the north entrance to the business district, has been the scene of many serious accidents and any speed over 20 miles per hour is dangerous.

Last year a car jumped the dip and plunged through a store front and only last month a car after hitting the dip careened dizzily down the boulevard barely escaping a head on collision with an oncoming car. Drivers should pay attention to the speed limit signs and accidents of this type could be avoided.

News About El Toro Folks

By MRS. CARRIE G. DREWS

The movies took possession of our little town Saturday to such an extent as to change its name from El Toro to "Coma Junction." Very early in the morning their trucks, cars, buses and dressing room began to roll in. Quickly the news spread and before noon a large crowd had gathered. Nearly every family for miles around was represented from one to many, and too, many strangers drifted in. One could have truly thought a circus had come to town. All that it lacked was the peanuts, popcorn and pink lemonade.

David Butler, who directed "All-baba Goes to Town" with Eddie Cantor and June Lang starring, and several other successful pictures, was directing "Kentucky Moon Shine," with Tony Martin, Wally Vernon and Marjorie Weaver starring. Also the three Ritz Brothers, Al, Jimmy and Harry. Si Jinks was a buckboard driver. Then there was little Dalmatian Watson as "Just a Boy."

The setting was at the El Toro railroad station. An old train with its chug-chug whistle, bell and screeching brakes, was in action much of the time. It was all so much fun, and everybody is looking forward to seeing the picture.

Two of our little El Toro belles, Miss Marion Whisler and Miss Irene Thomas, kept very busy securing the autographs of all the stars, step-ins and extras.

Mrs. Mike Jauregui and daughter, Esther, were also in town, the first time they had been away from their ranch in the hills for two months. Being washed out, deer and coyotes also give them no little trouble, the deer destroying acres of beans every year, and the coyotes so many turkeys and chickens that they plan to raise no more.

A surprise birthday party was given Mrs. Mary Estariz Tuesday night, and cards were the entertainment of the evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. D. Segura, Mr. and Mrs. D. Erramuspe, Mr. and Mrs. Marcell Baragard, Mr. D. Etcheberria and Mrs. Katherine Errota.

We are very happy to learn that Mrs. Lewie Robinson has returned home from Elsinore Hot Springs.

Mrs. George Stevens with her two little daughters, is home on a two-weeks visit with her mother, Mrs. Minnie Swartz, from Rice, Calif.

Birthday Surprise For Harry Theuret

COSTA MESA.—A surprise party honoring the birthday of Harry Theuret, was given recently at the family home, 161 Flower street. After an evening of "500," birthday cake was served.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beck, Mrs. Mary Carich, Ira Dinger of Costa Mesa; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rapier, jr., and Mrs. Joe Rapier, sr., Los Alamitos; Mrs. Ramona Claypool, Mrs. Jack Huddleston, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Theuret, Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Brown, Santa Ana.

TUSTIN DANCE

Tennis-Soled Thief In Action Again Among Chicks

The man in the crepe-soled tennis shoes has gone into action again. Latest victim of the ambitious chicken thief is William Klausung, route 3, Anaheim, who reported theft of $22 worth of poultry from his ranch on Sun-kist road near Olive boulevard.
The man with the tennis shoes apparently brought a friend this time, because deputy sheriffs found footprints they didn't recognize. The theft occurred Wednesday but was not reported until yesterday.

A police dog, meanwhile, was credited with protecting Mrs. Mary Cyprien chicken yard next door from being raided. The dog barked, the thieves fled after cutting a hole in the chicken-wire.

Cavalry Maneuvers to Test Supplying Troops From Air

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Cavalry maneuvers in Texas next month will test under wartime conditions the feasibility of supplying troops from the air.

Isolated units operating near the Mexican border will receive food for both men and horses from bundles dropped by parachute, war department officials said today.
Italy used this method extensively in its Ethiopian campaign, and Japan has employed it in China. In this country, it has been confined to peacetime emergencies such as last year's Ohio valley flood.

Undertaking to "streamline" its cavalry organization, the army already has tentatively marked the pack mule for the discard.
In the cavalry maneuvers from April 20 to May 16, the pack train will be displaced by motor trucks and airplanes. Horses, however, will be as numerous as ever.

General Malin Craig, chief of staff, told congress recently that despite the development of tanks and other mechanized weapons, mounted troops had a secure place in American military strategy.
The "streamlined" infantry division, tested in Texas last year, will have a wartime strength of 13,500 men instead of 22,070. The army now is proposing to decrease the size of the cavalry division from 12,000 to about 6,000. Greater speed and fire power are the objectives.

PEACE OFFICERS PLAN MEETING

Chief business topic will be the annual barbecue at Santiago park April 20.

WERNER BRIBE OFFERS TOLD

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—William McNeil, convicted of fraud, was to resume his testimony today that Mr. and Mrs. Erwin P. Werner, political figures, solicited him to commit bribery.

The Werners are being re-tried on charges in connection with the McNeil case.

Reciting his dealings with the couple last August before his conviction, McNeil testified: "Mrs. Werner told me she could take care of a high official in the district attorney's office, but that it would cost me $2500 to have my case dropped. She told me that I should let her handle the money, and not her husband."
Previously Mrs. Werner had contacted me and told me he could handle the matter and have the prosecution dropped."

STOLEN BIKE FOUND

Movie Stand-Ins Mad; They Now Seek New Title for Job

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—The movie stand-in wants a new name.
He will do almost anything, including running, walking, sitting or even lying beneath hot lights while cameras are focused.
But he thinks there is an utter lack of dignity in his title.

Two stand-ins are ring-leaders in a movement—and they're serious despite the date—to have a new title for their profession. The flag-bearers are Kenner Kemp and Duke McGrath, stand-ins respectively for James Stewart and Walter Pidgeon in "Shopworn Angel."

Uncle Sam May Buy Lower California

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A panacea for Mexico's financial ills was suggested today by Col. William H. Evans as the purchase of Lower California by the United States.
In telegrams to President Roosevelt, Secretary of State Hull and President Cardenas, Col. Evans urged consideration of the purchase plan, which is embodied in Rep. Charles Kramer's bill now pending in congress.

BORAH CHARGES PRICE OF GAS IS CONTROLLED

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senator Borah (R., Idaho) charged "four or five big oil companies" today with controlling the price of gasoline and oil.

"You will find no competition in price," Borah told a senate judiciary subcommittee. "That's been true for four or five years."

The veteran foe of monopoly made these observations at a hearing on a bill by Senator Gillette (D., Iowa) to require separation of marketing petroleum products from production, refining and transporting.

H. F. Remington of Reading, Pa., representing "independent" station owners, told senators the big oil companies now used "the Iowa plan" to "avoid chain store, social security and other taxes."

Remington said the plan first tried out by big companies in Iowa was to rent or lease company owned filling stations to former employees.

"A station worth $30,000 may be rented for $75 a month while an independent station of the same type with an overhead of $300 or $500 a month has to pay exactly the same price for gasoline," Remington said.

"It threatens to put all independent dealers out of business," Remington agreed with Borah that "four or five" big companies fix the price of gasoline.

Richard E. Breed of Baltimore, said independent distributors in Maryland "urged passage" of the Gillette bill to eliminate "tax dodging and stabilize prices."

No opposition witness appeared but subcommittee members said they would be given a chance to testify later.

The measure would fine companies up to $10,000 for not divorcing marketing from production, processing and transporting.

ANDREWS KEEPS FILLED SHELVES

The well filled shelves and display counters of T. W. Andrews Red and White store hold a total of more than 1300 different grocery items.

Added to this is a complete fresh fruit and vegetable department, where the produce is kept crisp and fresh by the new air conditioned spray bins; a meat department that features choice meats, and a drug department where cosmetics, shaving soaps, shoe polish and sundry drug items.

Andrews store, located at 608 East Washington, Santa Ana, also features a prompt delivery service with two regular trips daily, one before 11 o'clock in the morning and the other before 4 in the afternoon.

The popular Red and White store was started fourteen years ago in its present location.

Andrews is a charter member of the Red and White organization and one of its strongest supporters. Many of the benefits that he derives from his affiliation with the group he is enabled to pass along to his customers.

"And maybe you think they don't appreciate these benefits, Andrews said. "Not only the lower prices which are made possible, but the new merchandising methods, that we learn as members of the Red and White stores, make shopping easier for the customers."

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Partial responsibility for the flood damage in the March 2 storm was placed upon conflicting functions of the county flood control department of chief flood control engineer, C. H. Howell, a witness before the county grand jury.

"One law indicates that I should keep the reservoirs empty, while another requires that I get them full," said Howell, adding that if the reservoirs had been empty more of the flood waters would have been held in check.

Howell said he is required by law to seek to prevent floods as well as to conserve water behind the county dams, thereby maintaining, by seepage, a high water level in the lowlands for summer irrigation pumping.

The engineer estimated it would require $80,000,000 to build debris basins, channels and other projects to make flood control absolute under extreme storm conditions.

ENGINEER GETS FLOOD BLAME

VIENNA, (AP)—It was learned from reliable sources that Karl Vaugin, former Austrian defense minister under the late Chancellor Dollfuss, was under arrest yesterday on charges of corruption.

It was stated Vaugin was especially involved in the Phoenix scandal—he was a vice president of the largest Austrian insurance company which crashed two years ago.

(Vaugin previously was reported to have escaped into Hungary, March 13 when Adolf Hitler seized control of Austria.)

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This column deals with Townsend news and views. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

The writer is in receipt of a letter from J. A. Cooper, secretary of the Jeannette, Pa., Townsend club No. 1, dated March 21, 1938.

Coming from the eastern portion of the United States, there are many interesting bits of news which I am passing on to my readers.

Referring to your column in The Santa Ana Journal and your publishing of the resolution of the local No. 14 of S. C. M. W. of A., we wish to let you know that we consider these columns you are writing on the Townsend Plan go a long way in educating the people, and wish to state, keep the good work up.

"D. J. Vinck, president; H. E. Pfeil, vice president, and J. A. Cooper, secretary of Townsend club No. 1, met the advisory board of the United Rubber Workers Union in our city on March 5 and arranged to have Dr. J. E. Robb, Pennsylvania Townsend movement head, address the United Rubber Workers' Union on May 1 in Jeannette. We are also arranging a series of mass meetings to be held in the week beginning April 25 and ending May 1. Dr. Robb will address these meetings.

"Dr. Robb has been invited to address the Jeannette Rotary club, and arrangements are being completed for his appearance before the Kiwanis club and the Ministers Association. He will also appear before several unions of our city.

"Your letters and articles were read both in our union and at the Townsend club meetings, and were very much appreciated. They were encouraging to both bodies, for the reason that the East has heard from the West along the same line of battle.

"Referring to your inquiry concerning Congressman Crosby of Pennsylvania, we understand that the stage is being set in his district right now to defeat him in the coming election. The representatives of our Townsend clubs have personally contacted Congressman Robert G. Allen of Pennsylvania, and he has signed the petition to discharge the committee.

"We are arranging a Townsend mass meeting for April 24, and expect to have Congressman William Lemke address the meeting. On March 15 Dr. Francis E. Townsend was in Pittsburgh, Pa., and addressed an audience of 4000. He also gave an address over KQV at 6:30 p. m., and over KDKA at 10:30 p. m.

"In closing I wish to state I am a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Lodge 456. Your letter to M. C. Schupp would have been answered earlier but we were busy organizing Townsend

NEW PURCHASE POLICY ORDERED BY ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau announced today that President Roosevelt had ordered new government purchasing policies put into effect to prevent collusive bidding on cement and other building materials purchased by federal agencies.

Morgenthau said that cement purchases for all federal agencies will be concentrated in the procurement division of the treasury and all bidders on cement and other building materials will be required "to certify that there has been no collusion with other bidders, or prospective bidders, in the preparation of their bids and they will also be asked to present similar assurances with respect to sub-contracting undertaking mechanical work on the building for the general contractor."

He also said that cement bids will be accepted in the future only on the basis of the price of cement at the place of manufacture. This was intended, officials said, to break up the "basing point" system by which practically all cement manufacturers sell cement at prices determined by the destination of the cement.

Remember the dance, sandwiches, cake and coffee at Santa Ana club No. 10's meeting being held in Santa Ana Townsend hall, at 509 West Fourth street, at 7:30 tonight. There will be a good time for everybody.

The Sonoma Apple Growers, Inc., plans to improve its packing house this spring.

"BULL EXTRA" CHEHALIS, Wash.—When Jimmy Metzker of Mossyrock, Wash., delivers newspapers he takes the bull by the horns, literally. He covers his route on the back of a bull, signaling "stop and go" by scratching the curls on the bull's forehead. When he is directing the bull to the home of a new customer Metzker steers him by the horns.

BLUM PUTS OFF DEBATE WHEN TROUBLE BREWS

PARIS, (AP)—Premier Leon Blum postponed until Tuesday parliamentary debate on bills in which he will seek extraordinary powers to cope with France's financial difficulties.

The delay gave the radical-socialists, most moderate element of his people's front, time to study his measures and thereby to lessen danger of a split that might pull his cabinet down.

Originally the premier intended to introduce the bills tonight and seek passage over the week-end.

Postponement until Tuesday was interpreted in lobbies of the chamber of deputies as an indication Blum was alarmed by the growing hostility of the radical-socialists.

Observers have been unanimous in agreeing Blum's overthrow was certain if the radical-socialist coalition toward him continued to grow.

Blum's early postponement was attributed officially to prolonged conferences over a strike of 30,000 metal workers.

Stormy sessions of both houses of parliament preceded announcement of the latest delay.

'BENDS' CAUSE DIVER'S DEATH

MARE ISLAND, (AP)—"The bends," the painful affliction Jale Granter had feared and avoided during 20 years of deep sea diving, was blamed today for his death.

Granter, 60-year-old chief diver for the Standard Oil company of California, died while he was being treated in a pressure chamber of the submarine rescue ship Cheewink at the Mare Island navy yard.

He had been brought here by airplane and ambulance from Santa Maria, a distance of 250 miles, after he was stricken while diving in 100 feet of water at Estero bay for an anchor lost from the tanker B. J. J.

"The bends," feared by all deep sea divers, are caused by rising too quickly to the surface from a great depth.

UNDERTAKERS FACE CHARGES

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Mark A. Pierce and other officers and employees of Pierce Brothers, one of the nation's largest mortuaries, are under indictment by the federal grand jury, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in the handling of war veterans' funerals.

Two counts, each charging nine overt acts, were contained in the indictment returned yesterday against Pierce, Joseph B. Doan, Paul C. Werber, Charles S. Watkins, Tenney Weathers, Lyle E. Fry and Joseph L. Neel.

The indictment alleged the defendants submitted claims to the United States Veterans administration for caskets used in burying veterans, when, as a matter of fact, the caskets had been furnished without charge by the government.

1 Word Repeated; Sultan Is Divorced

SINGAPORE, (AP)—The wealthy Sultan Ibrahim of Johore divorced his beautiful Scottish wife today and announced he plans to spend his birthday, Sept. 9, in the United States with "my many American friends."

The sultana, the former Mrs. Helen Wilson, was said to have received an allowance of 5,000 pounds ($25,000) annually and $225,000 in jewelry.

The divorce was by Mohammedan law. The sultan merely repeated the word "talak" (get out) four times.

The sultan rules one of the undefeated Malay states. He visited the United States in 1934.

Too Much Whale; Not Enough Air For Fastidious

SAN DIEGO, (AP)—The snooty residents of suburban La Jolla sniffed the breeze gingerly today as they gazed at a dead whale drifting toward the beach.

Indignant phone calls flooded city hall. "Can't you do something about it?" they asked.

Officials passed the whale to the coast guard air station, which referred it to the coast guard patrol at San Pedro, which is expected to send a boat to tow the carcass toward China.

Increase for Immigrants Asked

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Rep. Dickstein, Democrat, New York, proposed an increase in immigration quotas for refugees from Central Europe. He asked congress to pool unused quotas of all nations.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, (AP)—The Netherlands government announced it had "gratefully accepted" Secretary of State Hull's invitation to join an international committee for the aid of European political refugees.

L. A. HOUSING HEADS NAMED

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Four of five members of the county housing commission, authorized by a recent act of the legislature, have been appointed by the board of supervisors.

They are Carl R. Erickson, Los Angeles, oil company executive; Isidore Dockweiler, Los Angeles attorney; William Simpson, Beverly Hills construction company executive, and Robert W. Burns, publisher of newspapers at Pomona and Covina.

Mrs. Hancock Banning of Pasadena was also named to the commission, but she declined to serve, and another appointment will be made.

The commission is to map a program for slum clearance and low rental home building, to be carried out with federal funds.

Lathrop School News

The outstanding program of the year was enjoyed by members and 35 student guests of the Junior Literary club when Terry E. Stephenson addressed the group on "California and Its History" last Friday morning.

Many stirring incidents of adventure and hardships were included in the story of early California by Stephenson. He dealt with the subject from the various periods including Spanish, Mexican, Russian and American.

Along with the lecture he showed the students a dozen choice and rare books of his collection.

SPRING "LINE-UP"

The special Spring Line-Up will be issued this week in which many special and entertaining features will be displayed. This month's paper is being sponsored by Mrs. Marguerite Hill and Mrs. Gladys Schofield.

QUARTER ENDS

Along with the ending of the third quarter will come a vacation which might be called a period of recuperation; or better yet an opportunity for a bigger and better start for the last lap! After spring vacation the high 9's will be thinking of graduation plans which are marked by special events—and tests! The 8th graders will be aspiring to the high rank of seniors in the school, and the 7th graders will suddenly grow up.

And what about that long hoped-for Lathrop auditorium? We are all wondering about that, and hoping, hoping, hoping. Lathropites are looking forward to that first big student body assembly which will be one of real gratitude and rejoicing.

Admits Pointing Gun at Officer

Felony assault charges against Lloyd Trickey, accused of pointing a gun at a policeman who was arresting him on a drunk driving count, were dismissed in justice court today, and a new charge of simple assault was filed.

Trickey pleaded guilty to the misdemeanor and, through his attorney, Otto Jacobs, asked for probation. Justice of the Peace Kenneth E. Morrison set the probation hearing for 9 a. m. next Thursday.

TOOLS STOLEN

Theft of a tire pump and other auto tools last Friday was reported by O. Benson, 517 North Bristol street. The tools were taken from Benson's car, parked in front of Santa Ana high school.

Will Louis Be Victim of April Fool's Joke?

Sports Roundup

By SID FEDER
(Pinch-Hitting for Brietz)

NEW YORK. (P)—April Fool's day and Harry Thomas tangles with Joe Louis... Nuff said... Don't be surprised if Joe Di Maggio gets around to joining the Yankees on their Texas swing next week. Won't have so far to travel along then. Bill De Correvont, the footballer, makes his golfing tournament debut in the Midwest amateur at French Lick Springs (Ind.) today... What major league outfit offered contracts to just about every member of the Salinas (N. Cal.) Mill team, who clouted 17 homers in a seven-game series last fall?... Shouldn't take even two guesses... Goose Goslin is giving Bucky Harris a good argument for signing him with Washington... Had two pinch-hitting chances this week and connected both times—for a single and homer.

Al Lopez and Tony Cucinello of the Bees deny they are feuding with Casey Stengel because Casey traded them from the Dodgers to the Bees... What was the difference, anyway?... Alabama's trip to the Rose Bowl apparently wasn't in vain... Ed Hickerson, a guard (and a California lad) who tips the beam at around 250, is the pride and joy of the Tuscaloosa campus... Even Coach Frank Thomas is optimistic about 1938 Crimson Tide hopes and that's something with a big "O."

Glenn Cunningham, the country's No. 1 runner (our book) was guest speaker at the church Sunday night... Glenn is an old pal of the preacher's... Bud Burmeister of Houston, once a better than fair middleweight and who is doing all right now (he has 98 suits of clothes) says there is no need to weep because Seabiscuit ran second a couple of times... says there is a real good horse in Australia named Silver Standard which has finished second in 15 major stakes.

Best fistic drawing cards in New York right now are negro lads—Joe Louis and Henry Armstrong... Every Yankee player (and lots of others, too) swear Joe McCarthy is the best suit in the majors... Most of the sheets here think the Dodgers will change hands soon, possibly before the season opens... Florida is another football team to watch next fall... Old Josh Cody doesn't say much but he has a few tricks up his sleeve as Houdini... In our humble opinion, the best deal a big league team made during the off-season was Cincinnati bagging Bill McKeechnie.

Mike Jacobs and Nate Druxman, Seattle promoter, are waging a war for control of the middleweights... Mike has been talking to his agents on the coast at $6 and $7 per three minutes... Personal note from Ken Smith of the Daily Mirror says the Giants are hitting harder than ever this spring... Mississippi U. is 100 per cent sold on Harry Mehre, its new football coach... Gossip around the Philly camp is that Pinky Whitney may do his third basing elsewhere this season... Biloxi, Miss., sports light-heavyweight fighter named Tank... Outfields Worrying Cubs and White Sox

LOS ANGELES. (P)—Their respective outfields are bothering Managers Charley Grimm of the Chicago Cubs and Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox. Grimm will concentrate on Carl Reynolds, Coaker Triplett and Jim Asbell to see who sticks as fourth outfielder. Dykes will shift Rip Radcliff, a potent batsman, to the garden.

Cookie Lavagetto Gets New Bonus

ST. PETERSBURG. —This is a big bonus year for Cookie Lavagetto, the Brooklyn Dodgers' third baseman, but it's tough on Larry MacPhail. Lavagetto earned $10 yesterday when he drove home the winning run against the Yankees. Recently at Lakeland, he hit a homer in the tenth to trim the Tigers and MacPhail handed him $10. When Cookie's hit beat the champions yesterday Larry had to unbelt again.

Rookie Sparkles On Mound for Bees

ARCADIA, Fla. (P)—The Boston Bees, about the hardest working ball players in Florida, are going to be even more so. After watching Mike Balas, the Lowell, Mass., rookie, gives a sparkling relief performance against the Tigers, Manager Casey Stengel advised the rest of the hurlers to follow the boy's example and work daily.

Clark Griffith Sour On Senators' Nine

WINTER HAVEN, (P)—Owner Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators is trying to shame his team into doing better. "We can't beat American Association teams and that's all," he growls with obvious intent that his players overhear. The Senators have lost five of six games with big league foes, three by shutouts.

Connie Mack Will Join A's Saturday

MOBILE, Ala. (P)—The Philadelphia Athletics arrived today for an exhibition game with the Mobile Skippers of the Southeastern league. Almon Williams will hurl for the A's. Manager Connie Mack remained at Biloxi, Miss., and will rejoin the team Saturday at Atlanta, Ga.

Cincinnati Rookie Has .421 Average

TAMPA, (P)—Frank McCormick, the youngster brought in to play first base for the Cincinnati Reds, leads his team in Grapefruit league hitting with a .421 average. He has belted 24 safeties in 57 trips to the plate, including five doubles and three triples.

Giants Complete Training Grind

BATON ROUGE. (P)—The Giants training work has been completed, and the athletes will taper off in the three days that remain to them here. Meanwhile, Bill Terry will begin the work of paring the squad. Today a year ago—Max Schmeling's $350,000 offer to Jimmy Braddock for fight in Berlin withdrawn after Braddock failed to accept.

Austrians Swear Allegiance

General von Bock (left), of the German army, above, greets officers of the country Herr Hitler recently took over as his very own. The ceremonies were incident to the hoisting of the Reich's flag over the Austrian war ministry in Vienna. Hall Hitler!

TENDERFOOT LUCK FOLLOWS EASTERNER INTO NEVADA

RENO, Nev. (AP)—E. H. Snyder, a "tenderfoot" from the East, has had varied luck in Nevada mining ventures despite a lack of any long experience at prospecting for precious metals. It was related this week by C. C. Higgins, veteran Reno mining authority.

A few years ago, according to Higgins, Snyder came west to visit a daughter, living at Gerlach in East-Central Washoe county, and found the country so attractive he decided to make it his home.

He is a self-confessed "tenderfoot," Higgins said, "and 'Lucky Luck,' as is often the case, has frequently followed this new comer."

In the late fall of 1936, Snyder went hunting for deer in the rugged country 30 or more miles northwest of Gerlach. There was snow on the ground and the "tenderfoot" tracked down a buck and made his mark.

After cleaning the animal, according to Higgins, Snyder threw it on an exposed cropping of rock about four feet high, knocking off some of the fragments.

He returned to his horse, fed it a little barley and in the empty sacks threw in some of the rock specimens "just for curiosity."

The spot where the specimens were taken was not marked in any way by the novice miner, and he did not return until the following summer—after he had been told by old-timers that the rock was gold-bearing and after he had had two assays, one of which indicated a value of $169 a ton and another which came to $152.

On the return trip, however, the snow was gone and everything in the region looked different. The big ledge seemingly had vanished and although he spent five weeks on the job, he was unable to find the spot again.

Not discouraged, and having developed what Higgins says is "prospecting fever," Snyder "later strayed off into the hills and finally arrived near the old McCoy quicksilver property near the Churchill-Lander county lines, now owned by the Quicksilver Corporation of America."

"He commenced operations by wandering over a hillside that had been prospected by mining long in the vicinity, who told him that it was absolutely barren. However, he soon picked up a small piece of float that was rich in quicksilver. Beginning to dig, he found a deposit, and it was so rich and extensive he soon sold it to Reno investors."

"Later he discovered a similar deposit not far away which is to be examined by the representative of large capitalists."

"Is that tenderfoot luck," Higgins asked in conclusion, "or isn't it?"

Snyder said, "The only thing the matter with Nevada is that it is so big and there are so many chances lying around loose, a man scarcely knows where and how to begin."

After a brief attack of pneumonia death came to Mrs. Anna Gisler yesterday morning at Santa Ana Valley hospital. She came to this country from her native Switzerland nearly half a century ago. She was 65.

She is survived by her husband, Robert Gisler, 70, of near Tallent, where they had lived for more than 30 years; three sons, Walter, Thomas and Harold, and four daughters, Mrs. Lucille Alaire of Talbert, Mrs. Emma Storfel of Anaheim, Mrs. Della Harpster of Bakersfield and Mrs. Agnes Marshall of Huntington Beach.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 9 a. m. at St. Simon and Jude's Catholic church, Huntington Beach. Rosary will be recited tonight at Dixon chapel, Huntington Beach.

Senate Passes RFC Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The senate passed today a bill to give the Reconstruction Finance corporation wide new authority to lend to business enterprises. It also would revive RFC loans to states and subdivisions for public work construction.

The administration measure now goes to the house.

The bill, by Senator Glass (D., Va.) would extend the scope of RFC lending and permit that agency to make available approximately $1,500,000,000 for long-time loans.

Loans to states and subdivisions would be permitted not only on so-called "self-liquidating" projects, but on all projects where the RFC finds there is reasonable assurance of repayment.

STOLEN CAR FOUND

A car registered to Mrs. Rudolph Senn, 1225 South Shelton street, was stolen from 211 North Main street and subsequently recovered at Fifth and Sycamore streets.

Rotarians to Hear Mrs. M. E. Geeting

Mrs. M. E. Geeting will speak at the Santa Ana Rotary club luncheon Tuesday on "Peace and How to Get It." Mrs. Geeting recently attended a peace conference in Washington. W. C. Jerome is program chairman.

KENNEDY SAYS U. S. TO KEEP 'SEA DEFENSE'

LONDON. (AP)—United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy declared last night the United States was determined to maintain a merchant marine as an "auxiliary of defense" but had no aggressive designs on the world's shipping trade.

The ambassador, who was chairman of the United States maritime commission before President Roosevelt assigned him to the court of St. James', spoke at the annual dinner of the chamber of shipping.

He concurred in the theory that a "domestic flag fleet" is more important as an auxiliary to the armed forces of a nation than for trade.

"From the standpoint of trade and defense," he said, "the American merchant marine is dangerously weak. It is 90 per cent of the entire American fleet will be obsolete by 1942."

Kennedy cited United States plans to build a "great navy" and declared the nation needs a merchant marine "approximately the size we now have."

4 HIGHLIGHTS IN BUREAU BILL

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Here are the principal provisions of the government reorganization bill being debated in the house today:

1. The President could appoint six administrative assistants at $10,000 a year to handle his routine work.

2. The President could consolidate or revise executive agencies for two years, with certain exceptions. Executive orders could be disapproved by congress within 60 days, subject to presidential veto. A new welfare department would be added to the cabinet.

3. The general accounting office, headed by the comptroller general, would be retained. An auditor general would be created as an agent of congress to check on the comptroller general's decisions and on federal spending policies.

4. The present three-man civil service commission would be replaced by a single administrator. An advisory committee of seven

NEW PUBLISHER IN NEWS CHAIN

NEW YORK. (AP)—Merlin H. Aylesworth, founder and first president of the National Broadcasting company, was named by Roy W. Howard as publisher of the World-Telegram, the New York unit of the Scripps-Howard chain of newspapers.

In announcing the appointment, Howard said the editorial and news departments of the World-Telegram would not be affected, but would continue under his direction as editor and Lee G. Wood as executive editor.

Aylesworth replaces Ray A. Huber, who returns to the general management of the Scripps-Howard chain, continuing, however, as a director of the World-Telegram corporation.

STAGE SET FOR IZAAK WALTON LEAGUE ANNUAL OUTDOOR SHOW

I Just Found Out

About
That
'Idea' Man
—By—
MILLARD
BROWNE

"Ideas, Inc." That's the name of a now-defunct firm he once operated. But it's a better description of the man himself. He's Walter McAdams, super-promoter de luxe who's been stopping over in Santa Ana these past few days.

He came here on business—had a gadget to sell as a crowd-getter for a local cocktail bar. The gadget, he modestly admits, probably will make him $2,000,000 in the next five years, and then he'll retire. Unless he sees some other sure-fire trinket that needs his promotion.

An idea man? He denies it, claims to be "just a sucker for new things." It's the other guy who has the ideas; McAdams does the selling—after sifting several thousand ideas, picking the one that's "different, revolutionary and bound to click."

Take Magic-Glo, for instance. It's the item he hopes will make him $2,000,000, has more razzle-dazzle appeal than an old-fashioned shell game. Already installed in a Santa Ana barroom, it's mystifying the customers by making cocktail glasses, glass spoons and hollow glass snakes light up like neon tubes when they're brought anywhere near the bar.

S. A. RESIDENTS
SPEND $108,736
ON HOME REPAIR

Santa Ana residents spent $108,736 during March for repairing and building homes and business structures. Nearly as much money went into this activity for the 31-day period ending yesterday as during the months of January and February, combined.

Since the first of the year almost a quarter million dollars has been used on construction activities here. Permits for erection of new structures struck a low point in January with only $50,000 worth of building recorded at the city hall. The following month found contractors climbing out of the slump with $78,894 represented in permits. March marked resumption of normal activities.

The total for the three-month period since Jan. 1 amounts to $237,662 with 192 permits applied for, or an average of $1238 for each application granted.

when he found a research physicist (D. B. Robertson) who had Magic-Glo in his mind, had no money to put it across. The principal? Something like that of radio beams, but slightly different. An electrical unit energizes a strip of bar, throws a 50,000,000-oscillation "electronic" beam, which causes a mixture of neon, argon and helium (depending on the desired color) gases in especially built glassware to glow when the glass is brought within the beam's range.

What good is it? Right now, it's a novelty, will sell because it draws crowds. But McAdams, the promoter, sees a bright future for Magic-Glo—plans to push it as an attention-getter in commercial displays, store windows. He started with bars on purpose, because the cross-section crowds there make a good laboratory, give him a better selling point when he starts attacking merchants.

A former soda jerker, hotel clerk, professional skater and boxer, McAdams has been promoting one thing or another for 25 years. First it was an electrical washing machine, and the competitors laughed out loud at him. Then it was a new-fangled gasoline pump with a glass tank that let the customers see what they were getting.

One day in 1929, McAdams was playing golf with Bobby Jones, who kiddingly told him about a new backyard golf course he'd just played on. Something sparked in the promoter's mind, and four months later a miniature golf course was installed on Long Island.

That was the beginning of Tom Thumb golf; the end came a year later, but by then McAdams had

Promoters All—They Are Polishing Off Frolics

Santa Ana's nine high school service club presidents got together this morning to draft last-minute plans for the fifth annual Hi-Jinks in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight. Each of the clubs will present a skit or stunt. The presidents shown here are, left to right: Jack Allen, Larry Stump, Ladean Laub, Barney Robinson, Lorraine Tarbox, Dorothy Davis and Anne Bell, and (seated in front) Byram Bates and Betty Willis.

SIBERIAN EVILS,
CHURCH TALK

Peter and Paul Voronoff of Russia, will conduct a special service at the Foursquare church, corner of Fairview and Sycamore streets, tonight at 7:30 o'clock, and will give an illustrated talk on Russia. The Voronoffs are American born, but have spent 11 years in Russia.

Their fathers, who is a missionary, has been a prisoner in Siberia for 10 years, and their mother for four. The brothers will tell how 700 froze to death in one night, and how many have suffered persecution in Siberian concentration camps. The text of their sermon will be "Can It Happen Here?"

stepped out of the enterprise. He now produces McIntyre and Winchell clippings in which he was plugged for the "new" Tom Thumb golf idea.

After that he organized "Ideas, Inc." And "Ideas, Inc." was what convinced him that you can't promote five or six things at once. "We were swamped with every crank, inventor and idea man in the country," McAdams said. "It didn't work—was too confusing." His current principle of promotion: Take one thing at a time and "splurge" it.

No oil-lease type of promoter, McAdams claims he's never sold anyone a gold brick—or the Brooklyn bridge. "Once I had a fella bring in a perpetual motion machine he wanted me to market, though," he chuckled. "It cost me $25 to hire an engineer who could tell him why it wouldn't work."

Another time, the big-time New York racketeers offered him a deal. It was while he was promoting marble machines. They wanted him to string with them, spot the machines in a chain of metropolitan speakeasies, but he dodged up to pones and left him in position.

Widow of Editor
Capistrano Mission

Pictures of the San Juan Capistrano mission and Father Serra's church are to be among the features in a book, "California Missions and Their Romances," to be published late next summer by Mrs. Cora Older, widow of Freeport Older, one-time famous San Francisco editor.

Mrs. Older called upon the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce for the pictorial data and Secretary Howard Wood supplied her with several striking views of the mission. Mrs. Older also asked for a water color picture of the mission which, if secured, may be placed on the jacket of the book. Secretary Wood referred her to several artists, including Millard Sheets of Claremont.

Wood has written to Rev. Arthur J. Hutchinson of San Juan Capistrano for further photographs of the mission.

California Grows
'Em Higher, Larger

California is growing larger children than any other state, the state department of public health reports after recording the heights of 50,000 children born in California and 25,000 born outside the state. Dr. Orren Lloyd Jones of Los Angeles, who was in charge of the study, said:

"We are able to state that the average height of children of a given age born elsewhere than California is invariably less than the average height of California native born children."

Color Scheme Note
For That Dessert

Try tinting your ice cubes with vegetable dyes. A spring salad, for instance, is delightful to look at and unusually crisp if it is set in a bowl of green ice cubes. Desserts may be worked out in the same way.

CCC ENROLLEES
BIRTHDAY, APR. 5

Over 1400 enrollees in soil conservation camps in California are planning to observe the fifth anniversary of the Civilian Conservation Corps April 5, it was announced today. The CCC was organized in April, 1933.

"Open house" and field tours will be held by the camps during the week of March 31 to April 5 to encourage local people to visit the camps and view erosion control work the enrollees are doing. The camps are working on farms on which five-year cooperative agreements for soil conservation demonstrations have been signed with the service.

The eight CCC camps engaged in soil and water conservation work in California are located at Sebastopol, Vacaville, Watsonville, Lompoc, Somis, El Toro, Cucamonga and Vista. Five of them are junior camps occupied by enrollees whose ages range from 17 to 23 years.

TALK ON CHINA
BY DR. HAWK

Dr. John C. Hawk of China will speak tomorrow evening at the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock, on the subject, "The Present Situation in China." Dr. Hawk is presiding elder of the Shanghai district of the Methodist Church South in China.

He returned only 10 days ago from China on the "Empress of Canada," after spending a number of years in far eastern missionary work. The public is invited to attend this speech.

FIREMEN HEAR
FIVE POINTS ON
SALESMANSHIP

Members of the Orange County Firemen's association, at their regular monthly meeting in Green-er's hall, Costa Mesa, heard an illustrated lecture on salesmanship by L. W. Hypes, manager of a bottling company. J. A. Scherman, president of the association, presided.

Five points of good salesmanship were stressed by Hypes. They were:

Personal appearance, facial expression, interest in the customer, friendly voice and enthusiasm.

Hypes laid down the fundamental rule of "treat your customer as you would a guest in your home."

Routine business followed. Contemplated legislation was discussed and Scherman suggested a resolution be formulated asking California State Firemen's association to sponsor a bill requiring all oil and gasoline trucks to carry carbon tetrachloride fire extinguishers, inside and soda and acid or foam extinguishers on the outside of the trucks. He said large oil companies already are giving his suggestion consideration.

Chief A. L. Cone of Brea announced his retirement from the Brea fire department. He will move to Torrance where he expects to manufacture and market a patented fog nozzle for fighting fires. Refreshments were served.

Butter Ball Hints
For Thrifty Cook

Rinse butter paddles in boiling water, then in cold water and place them in a bowl of cold water before you start to make butter balls. Cut butter into pieces an inch square and about a third of an inch thick. Chill the squares in water. Put one pat of butter on paddle. Shape it by rolling it with the other paddle. Chill until serving time.

PARNASSUS'
FOOTHILLS

JUST FUELING—I GAS!

I'll die serene when I have seen A modest ad for gasoline

That says, in measured words and slow—

This stuff will make your motor go.

And though it's not the very best It stands right up with all the rest. You might do worse than buy our gas.

Drop in and try some as you pass.

I've never tried this type of fuel. I have burned, if you please, The kind that will not rot or rust Or smell or boil or freeze; The germ free gas, the worm free gas.

And wax free gas as well. Although I've missed the tax free gas.

As near as I can tell, The hyper fast, the unsurpassed, The double fractionated, I've tried all those and suppose That next comes Triple-Gaite.

Well, anyway, I want to say I'd like to see for sale, I'd buy a tankful every day And fill an extra pail With the pleasing stanza one. Then I'd feel that the millenium Was really well begun.

DRUNK CHARGE

John C. Gubbs, 36, San Diego, was arrested on a drunk driving charge by Laguna Beach police yesterday.

OF EXHIBITS,
SHOW ON BILL

Featuring almost everything that will make the outdoor man and women dissatisfied, the Fullerton chapter, Izak Walton League of America will stage its third annual outdoor show in Hillcrest park there tomorrow and Sunday.

The show will repeat exhibits of house trailers, and the most elaborate of camping equipment. The latest wrinkles in fishing tackle, both for fresh and salt water, will be exhibited by many local and national firms. The latest in firearms and ammunition will be shown alongside old-time weapons.

Creating intense interest among youngsters of the northern part of the county is a "mutt" show, which is slated for tomorrow in the park. Prizes will be given for many types of "plain dogs" with a committee to take care of all entries and judging.

Many archery, casting and shooting contests have been planned by Ernie Garner, chairman in charge, and John C. Gregory, Izak Walton president. National champions in their lines, including Dick Miller of Huntington Beach, international fly-casting champion, will appear during the two-day program, for which there is no charge to the public.

Exhibits of game birds will be featured by introduction of a rare South American relative of the partridge, which will be shown by the state game farm at Chico, where officials have been attempting to propagate the fowl as an addition to local game birds.

Dinner Party Is Given By Trio

Nearing the end of a brilliant season of formal entertainment in which they have participated as host and hostesses several times, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Dunning and Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon last night entertained at dinner in the lovely East Fourth street home of the Dunnings.

The drawing rooms and dining room were literally a bower of colorful and fragrant flowers, mostly from the Dunning garden, but some sent in by Mrs. Howard Timmons and Mrs. I. F. Landis and other thoughtful friends.

Particularly lovely were the vivid Cherokee roses adorning the central table with its formal place-cards. The two hostesses, in lovely dinner gowns, were assisted at receiving and seating their guests by Miss Marian Cruickshank, bride-elect of Mrs. Haddon's son Johnston.

Mrs. and Mrs. Howard Timmons captured the couple prize with their combined scores. Mrs. Robert Tuthill was winner of the high prize for ladies, and Paul Dinsmore was high man.

Mr. West and the Grand Jury

As nearly all unbiased citizens could plainly see, the effort to get rid of Supervisor West by grand jury steam-rolling was doomed to failure from the beginning for at least one potent reason.

This reason was that the grand jury accusations smacked a lot more of political vengeance than they did of an unprejudiced attempt to uphold the law.

Two of the four charges were thrown out by Judge Turrentine the moment they emerged into superior court. These two "counts" were "no counts." They covered such things as disagreeing with the sheriff and disturbing the peace and serenity of other courthouse opponents of the Laguna supervisor. No fair minded person could very well consider them as anything but a strong expression of grand jury dislike for Mr. West.

The remaining two counts fell by the wayside when a trial jury got hold of them. They dealt with soliciting bribes. If true, they were serious. In fact, if the grand jury had enough evidence to warrant their being true, a felony charge should have been brought. But the trial jury decided there was not convincing evidence to support the accusations, so there you are.

Mr. West may have been a stormy political petrel and a nuisance; certainly plenty of his foes think so and there was no secret about their desire to "fix him up."

In the office of supervisor, however, he represented the people of the fifth district, and if they didn't like his actions they were privileged to recall him. They hadn't recalled him. They hadn't even tried to.

Result of the whole thing is to make it appear that the grand jury has allowed itself to be used as a mere tool in the hands of Mr. West's political enemies. Last year a similar thing happened to the grand jury which "investigated" the Eden Oil mess.

Such things don't help the reputation of the grand jury system. The grand jury is supposed to be an independent body representing all of the citizens in the county in a fair and impartial way. Grand juries have accomplished such reforms as the cleanup of the Luciano vice ring in New York and the San Francisco police department.

When a grand jury lets itself be placed in the light of being a steamroller for any political clique, it destroys its own usefulness, imposes a vicious injustice upon the unlucky victim and sullies the whole Anglo-Saxon judicial system.

Japan is going to pay Uncle Sam's $2,200,000 bill for sinking the Panay. They'll know then that war is hell.

The U.S. and Baja California

The current disagreement between the United States and Mexico brings up that old subject—the annexation of Baja California.

Annexation by purchase or exchange, of course, and not in the way that Hitler has grabbed Austria or in the way that Mexico has grabbed American oil interests.

Undoubtedly the acquisition of Lower California by the United States would open up a vast new empire of millions of acres capable in many sections of the same development that has made California the garden spot of the world.

Perhaps the greater part of our unemployed could be taken care of with free government land; and the development of vast tropical forests, mineral resources, water power, fisheries and scenic and recreation opportunities would contribute greatly to national wealth and possibly put an end to the current depression.

Lower California geographically is more a part of the United States than it is of Mexico. It joins the U. S. It is separated from Mexico by a great sea.

Since Mexico seems unable to pay for the American oil property it has expropriated, the value of these seizures could be used as part payment for Baja California and the balance used to build up the Mexican treasury.

Baja California is of little value in its present condition to Mexico. It could be of enormous value to Uncle Sam.

Britain looks to U. S. in the Mexican oil crisis. This is the time to ask her for a piece of the old war debt.

Wings Over the Cities

Mussolini has a new idea on decentralization of big cities. He tells his subjects to move out of large centers to the country before war comes from the sky.

In thickly settled cities, a bomb can kill hundreds. Out in the rural areas, the population is less dense and the mortality rate not so high.

He has learned this vital lesson of defense, no doubt, from the experience of his flyers in Ethiopia and Spain. It is only too true. Crowded cities form targets that no airman can miss.

With international relations so near the breaking point in a half dozen spots today, there's no way of knowing what big cities will suddenly become targets in an undeclared war.

In the past, decentralization has been urged on the grounds that it's better for the health, nerves and general outlook on life.

Mussolini puts his finger on a more pressing reason.

Senator claims one federal bureau employs only red-headed stenographers. So that's the origin of the rumor about Reds running the government.

Fair Enough

Mr. Whitney Invests in Dingbats

By Westbrook Pegler

Amusing, of course, is the revelation that much of the personal fortune of Richard Whitney, the former president of the New York stock exchange, was invested in economic dingbats rather than conservative, blue-chip issues. But serious restaurateurs go next door to eat, many saloon-keepers are teetotalers, and Barbara Hutton wears very little jewelry from the counters of the five-and-ten.

Mr. Whitney's properties included an applejack farm, a dirt mine whose product was calculated to invigorate tired land, and a huge juice terminal to insect pests. These queer interests indeed for a man in his position, and Mr. Whitney may feel embarrassed by the disclosure of his foibles in the inventory of his old golf sticks, collar buttons and initialed belt buckles. Great men do have their whims, however.

The infallible fire extinguisher which Tex Rickard bought from an inventor was his favorite investment. It consisted of a powder inclosed in a glass grenade or egg, and the theory was that hundreds of grenades tossed through the windows of a burning building would shatter and smother the flames under a sifting of the magic chemicals. Unfortunately, however, in practical tests the glass egg plopped in the blazing crates which Mr. Rickard had ignited for his demonstration and did not break, up to the time of his death.

MR. RICKARD PONDERES

Mr. Rickard was pondering on designs similar to the salt shaker and talcum powder after. He was sensitive about his patent fire extinguisher, and defended it doggedly against the scoffing jests of Mr. Gene Fowler, who was his press agent at the time but lacked the true reverential spirit of the press agent toward his employer.

Mr. Rickard was the associate of many rich and socially refined Wall Street operators, included among his memorable 600 millionaires, and he always insisted that if a poor man rubbed elbows with millionaires long enough he would rub off some of the richness on himself. Yet he was only a little brother of the rich when he died, and he had had to endure much from Mr. Fowler, not only with regard to his magic powder but also concerning his interest in acoustics.

Somewhere around Madison Square Garden about that time there developed a strange interest in acoustics, and a number of fight managers and boxing writers talked loftily of their investment in a company which manufactured them.

BARREMORE ROARS

Mr. Rickard urged Mr. Fowler to get aboard for the future security of Agnes, his wife, and Jane, their young daughter, who recently fed John Barrymore a drink of sarsaparilla neat, causing him to roar, "My God, I am in the house of the Borgias!"

Mr. Fowler floored him, however, with the remark that acoustics were nothing but echoes, and that he doubtless had been swindled by some clever scoundrel not above imposing on his unlearnedness.

Country may be some in this country who will see at President Roosevelt's economic knowledge, but among New Dealers he is held to possess the sum of all wisdom on such matters. Yet it was not many years ago that Mr. Roosevelt, as a private financier, was promoting a company to trade in German marks, a company to produce a glorified tincture or snap-shot gallery for the sidewalk trade and a company which was going to conduct vast retail business entirely by slot machines, thus eliminating incalculable numbers of store clerks.

TECHNOLOGY

That was before technological unemployment became a political and economic issue in the country, and it is Mr. Roosevelt's good fortune that the plan did not succeed, thanks be to the larceny that dwells in the human breast. Mr. Roosevelt's customers felled the plan and saved him a big name for technological unemployment by using home-made money in the slot machines, so the jobs of the clerks were saved.

Henry Morgenthau, an economic genius surely, was a colleague of Mr. Roosevelt in those venturesome days, and in view of their interest in dingbats, Mr. Whitney's investments in the applejack company, the dirt mine and the bug juice may be said to have the most eminent precedent.

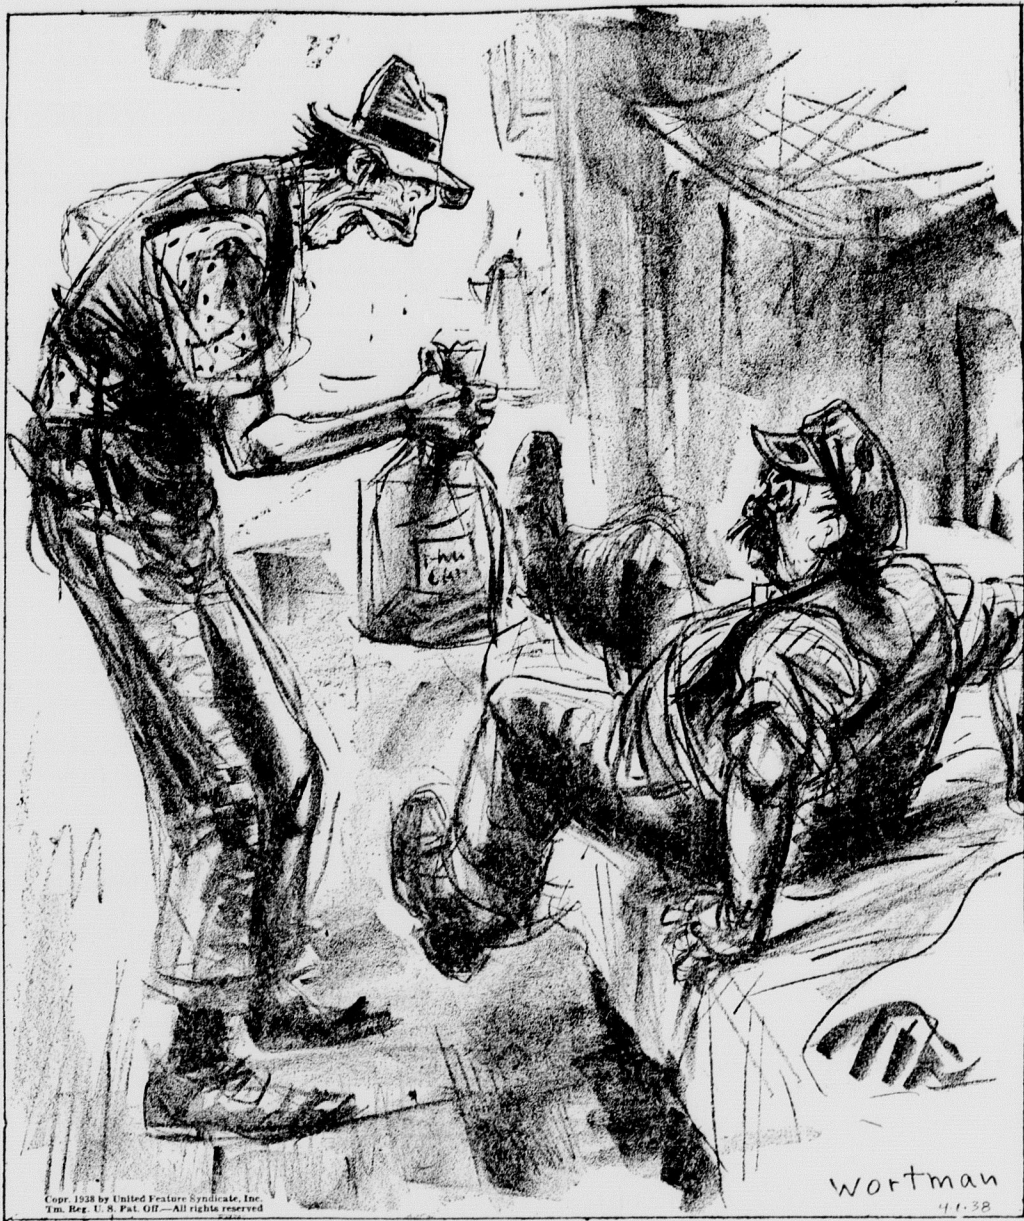

Indeed, the blue chip often is a bad investment. American Telephone and Telegraph was selling around $80 a year or so ago, a blue chip if there ever was one. It closed at 115 recently.

Judge: Has there ever been a circus that wasn't "mammoth, stupendous, gigantic—the greatest show on earth?" P. A. Yes, there was Prof. Ivanitch's Famous Flea Circus. It was only colossal.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

NEW YORK. Estimates of the fortune left by J. P. Morgan, who died in Europe yesterday, range from $75,000,000 to $300,000,000, including art collections. It is predicted there will be large charitable and public bequests, although it is conceded his son, J. P. Morgan, Jr., will receive the bulk of the fortune.

A. F. Call, noted citrus fruit grower and well known in legal circles throughout Southern California, was instantly killed this morning at Corona when his auto was struck by a passenger train on the Santa Fe line.

P. A. Stanton, founder of the little municipality on the edge of Orange county which is to have an election soon to vote on disincorporation, was a Santa Ana visitor this morning and declared certain dissatisfied Stanton residents have no chance whatever of making the disincorporation "stick."

CAIRO.—The flood waters continued to rise steadily throughout the night and stood at 53 feet today. The entire city expected today would prove the crucial on which Cairo's fate would hang. Water was beginning to seep through the concrete wall at the edge of this city this morning.

I'll Tell You

By BOB BURNS

I think one of the reasons why lawlessness is allowed to get such a head start over in this country is because we're too busy to concern ourselves with anything that affects us only indirectly. We don't give it any thought until it actually hits home.

It's like the time a young lawyer down home went to my uncle and says "Mr. Hink, I came to you to find out if I can depend upon your supporting me."

Uncle Hink says "Well now—that depends a whole lot on whether you are running for office or if you are figuring on marryin' my daughter."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

Regional Government Banks Studied to Release Loans to Business; Would Lend to Small Business

WASHINGTON.—One of the big plans being discussed behind the scenes for the extension of easier credit to business is the creation of regional government banks.

This whole problem of loans to industry, particularly small business, is now being threshed out by a special committee headed by Secretary Morgenthau, including also RFC Chairman Jesse Jones and SE Chairman Bill Douglas.

The regional bank plan is one of several ideas before them. The object is to create a system of special government banks for industry just as the joint stock land banks were created for agriculture.

These regional banks would attempt to do for smaller industry what Jesse Jones and his Reconstruction Finance corporation have so miserably failed to do. Among other things they would take much more speculative risks than the RFC or the average bank.

TIGHT MONEY MARKET

Behind this loans-to-business study is one of the most serious financial questions facing the country—the fact that money cannot be raised for ordinary business ventures.

Most striking recent example was the Pure Oil company whose underwriters, headed by Smith, Barney and Co., undertook to sell $44,000,000 worth of stock, offering it first to stockholders. But the stockholders bought only $800,000 worth, leaving the underwriters stuck with the balance of over $43,000,000.

A careful study of the credit situation of the country, made by New Deal economists, indicates that this is one of the factors retarding recession recovery.

This study shows that there has developed a channelization of loans, or concentration of money in government bonds and gilt-edged securities, so that funds are too sufficiently available for ordinary business risks.

The channelization of loans first started in 1917 with the Liberty loan campaign, when big investors began putting their money in government bonds and tax-exempt securities. This was the first time that the purchase of government bonds took place on any large scale in the entire history of the country. The tendency has continued ever since.

TYPES OF INVESTORS

Today there are three big types of investors. Here they are, together with the channels in which they invest:

1. Wealthy individuals have told their investment advisors to conserve what they have. They want to take no chances, even if they draw interest at only 2 per cent, or no interest at all. Afraid of the future, they say they are willing to live on their capital.

This class puts its money largely in tax-exempt securities and triple-A bonds. They even keep large amounts of cash on hand. Only when they fear inflation do they buy stocks.

2. The banks have now concentrated most of their money in government securities rather than commercial loans. This is partly because of the requirements of the federal reserve board and Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, partly because of uneasiness regarding the future.

Result is that private industry can't get large amounts of money from the banks. Only way money can be raised, therefore, is through a stock or bond issue, which can only be done by large firms.

3. The insurance companies put their money chiefly in U. S. securities, gilt-edged bonds and mortgages. They are restricted by the insurance laws which forbid speculation risks, and the result is that some of the larger companies have as much as $20,000,000 lying idle, drawing no interest.

With insurance one of the chief means of saving today, this ties up a tremendous amount of money. SOMEONE MUST LEND

Result of this concentration of wealth in government bonds and non-active securities is to leave little money for private enterprise. Business initiative, lacking funds, begins to dry up, and this is one of the restraints affecting the country today.

Furthermore, it runs in a vicious circle. Less private initiative there is, less business there is for the government to tax. And the less taxes the government collects, the more money it has to borrow. The more money it borrows, the more it dries up the normal credit source of business.

That is the financial merry-go-round on which the country is whirling today, and the big reason for the plan to get loans released to private business, through regional banks or otherwise.

MONOPOLY MESSAGE

No hint has emanated from Warm Springs, but one of the principal jobs on which the President is working is his long-promised message on monopoly.

He plans to complete the document at the Georgia retreat so he can send it to congress within a few days after his return to Washington.

What Other Editors Say

DIFFERENCES IN FEE CASE

The board of supervisors have ordered court action to be brought against the county officials who did not turn in their fees under the new fee and salary ordinance. Peculiarly enough, they have instructed the district attorney to prosecute the case, although he himself held that certain features of the ordinance were illegal.

There is some difference of opinion as to how to proceed with the case. The D. A. wants to bring suit against one of the officials, and rest the case solely on one point—the legality of that part of the ordinance which returns part of these fees to the officers collecting them, up to a certain maximum. The D. A. holds that this amounts to increasing the officers' salaries. He would have the court settle this point.

Another opinion is that the case should be put into the form of a mandamus action against the auditor. If he should withhold the salary of a county official on the ground that the official had not complied with the ordinance, such an action would be the logical procedure.

One trouble is that the facts about official fees vary with different officials. Some are complicated by state law. The county treasurer's fees come as the result of his work as a state collector of inheritance taxes, with which the county has nothing to do. Part of the sheriff's fees consist of his profit on the feeding of prisoners, and there is a question as to whether they are fees at all.

Altogether, it appears that the whole matter will produce a rather complicated legal tangle before it finally is resolved and settled.

WEEKLY WATCHTOWER.

ANTA ANA DESERT

Motorists going to the Orange show from this section crossed the new Santa Ana desert en route—at least that's the way it appeared—the flood waters had in many places swept away the trees and usual dense growth along the Santa Ana river bottom, leaving a white expanse of fine silt that was picked up by a stiff breeze that sent clouds of dust into the air—roads were crowded with sightseers and they could not resist the lure of stopping to take a few snapshots with the rest of the spectators of Nature's recent rampage.—Newport-Balboa News Times.

CAN THIS MEAN PEACE?

No sooner do the headlines proclaim Lithuania's surrender to the Poles ultimatum, with peace in prospect along the Vileika and Viliya, than we read that Krupnik has made its appearance once again in Poland.

Krupnik, you should know, is Lithuania's national drink, suppressed for 20 years by patriotic Poles. It consists of five parts of vodka, one part of red wine and a blob of honey mixed and heated. Of all the libations of which we have heard this one seems most nearly to resemble liquid dynamite.

We hope the Poles and Lithuanians settle down and become good neighbors. But Krupnik sounds like a fighting drink.—San Francisco News.

VIENNA ON DEATHBED?

Austria has had its troubles. Perhaps it may be better economically—we leave out the persecuted minorities—but already it has lost its richest claims to distinction. A Vienna without its scholars and its Strauss waltzes, will be one city within a new Germany. Hitler may remove its character, its old independence, gaiety and charm. Some other center will surely give to society that which Vienna did before it was ordered to conform to the pattern within the mind of the overlords. Vienna, as the world knows it, is dying. It has claimed a century of the national labor relations board on a dispute involving North Whittier Heights Citrus association at Puente. It would seem only a step from packing house to farm operations, with dictator-like orders as to what co-operatives and growers alike have to say about their own enterprises. We have looked with horror upon results of dictatorial rule in Europe. There is justifiable fear that all American industry may tumble into the same abyss.—Redlands Facts.

A CITRUS VIEWPOINT

The citrus industries of California will view with considerable concern the failure of the national labor relations board on a dispute involving North Whittier Heights Citrus association at Puente. It would seem only a step from packing house to farm operations, with dictator-like orders as to what co-operatives and growers alike have to say about their own enterprises. We have looked with horror upon results of dictatorial rule in Europe. There is justifiable fear that all American industry may tumble into the same abyss.—Redlands Facts.

The shape was that of a tarantula, hence the name. It was at first believed to be just another bit of the Milky Way, quite detached.

But now it is known to lie a million light years beyond the Milky Way. Its diameter is so vast that light takes 600 years to cross its face.

The Tarantula is the biggest and most magnificent mystery of the skies. It is apparently a gigantic, luminous gas pocket. Bigger telescopes may show the spider-shaped creature to be composed of stars.

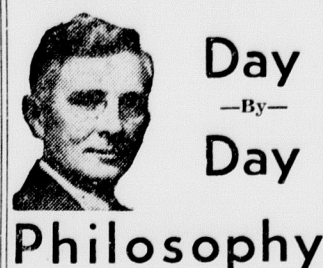

But at present Tarantula classes with the famous nebula in the constellation.

The Orion nebula is one-hundredth the diameter of the Tarantula. If the big spider were in Orion, in the position of the present nebula, it would give the earth a light like moonlight every night it was above the horizon.

Philosophy

It is unwise, and extremely unfair, to discourage the ambition of a child. Youth gets a hunch sometimes that if followed may alter the course of a lifetime and make all the difference between success and failure.

A generation or so ago, there was a little boy in a town of France who loved to brush his mother's long, wavy hair. He felt sorry for the women who had not such beautiful tresses as his adored mother. He resolved to do something about it. Going to Paris at the age of 17, he secured a position in one of the hair salons, but was discharged when he almost ruined the hair of his first patron.

LOSERS POSITION

He lost his second position when he argued against arranging a patron's hair in a style which he knew would be most unbecoming. (I understand the French are like that, but a contrivance will not, unless virtually forced into it, sell a woman a dress which is not suited to her.)

But Marcel Grateau, father of the marcel wave still had the urge to see all women with beautiful curly hair. He washed windows and show cases until he had saved enough francs to open a tiny shop of his own. Then he invented a curling iron to train ladies' hair into waves like those of his mother's. It took him 15 years to perfect it, but he finally was satisfied, patented his iron, sold them at a handsome royalty, and, in 1935, an octogenarian, he died worth millions.

Mothers and fathers, watch for and develop that idea of your child's. You never can tell to what it may lead.

HOW ABOUT IT

Does the work that you consider your best always receive the response you expect? Often, I am sure it does not. But at other times, aren't you surprised that something you have considered rather ordinary is hailed with high praise?

John Sloan, the artist, was asked to name three of his best canvases. He replied: "It is difficult for me to decide. I'll try but I will not be at all sure. Perhaps they are 'Old Hotel Lafayette,' or 'Spring Rain or Rengasch's Saturday Night.'" Then he added, "Now that I have mentioned these I feel quite uncertain. In fact, I know they are not the best but I don't know which are."

THREE PAINTINGS

These three paintings hang respectively in the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Whitney Museum in New York City; and in the Chicago Art Institute. This appreciation by others no doubt makes up to John Sloan for other work of his which has not received as much appreciation.

So don't become discouraged over lack of appreciation. It may come to you unexpectedly at some other time.

Fear of change is an attribute of age. Youth welcomes change and craves variety. If you find yourself disliking a change in your habits of living, train yourself to a different point of view. Novelty will give you a new lease on life.
